V_6 02.07.23_Training Proposal

Executive Summary:

The proposed initiative introduces a novel theory and framework for post-COVID-19 education, addressing the unique challenges brought about by the pandemic. The initiative integrates principles from humanistic (including Rogerian personal construct psychology) and affective psychological orientations, aligning with the United Nations Convention on the Rights of the Child (UNCRC). The goal is to equip educators with strategies to tackle affective barriers that may hinder effective education, particularly for disadvantaged children.

Key Goals:

1. Addressing Post-COVID Education Challenges: The initiative is designed to respond to the educational disruption and heightened pressures faced by students and teachers due to the COVID-19 pandemic.

2. Supporting Disadvantaged Children: The proposal aims to address the unique challenges faced by disadvantaged students, who often lack the necessary resources and support for effective remote learning.

3. Upholding Council Values: The Buckinghamshire Council Whole-School Training Proposal for Social, Emotional, and Mental Health (SEMH) reflects the council's PACT (Proud, Ambitious, Collaborative, Trustworthy) values.

4. Incorporating Established Psychological Theories: The proposal ambitiously incorporates established psychological theories, including Rogerian personal construct psychology, and affective frameworks to tackle the unique challenges in the post-COVID-19 education climate. When considering the array of psychological theories and frameworks that have been integrated into this initiative, it's more accurate to conceptualize this as an integrative humanistic approach. This approach draws upon multiple theoretical sources, including Silvan Tomkins' Theory of Affect Script, Nathanson's Compass of Shame, the Social Discipline Window, and Self Determination Theory, to create a holistic and empathetic strategy for addressing the emotional and social needs of students.

5. Promoting Collaborative Learning: The training course is designed to foster a collaborative learning environment, incorporating a range of critical concepts, case summaries, and principles outlined in the UNCRC.

6. Emphasizing Trustworthiness: The proposal ensures trustworthiness by providing comprehensive training materials and resources, empowering educators for continuous reflection and improvement.

7. Creating Positive Educational Environments: The proposed training strives to foster positive, supportive educational environments that respect the rights of every child, in line with the UNCRC's principles.

8. Incorporating Rogerian Personal Construct Psychology: The initiative takes into account the humanistic ideas drawn from Rogers' personal construct psychology, encouraging an empathetic, child-centred approach to education.

By focusing on these goals, the proposed training offers a transformative approach to address the escalating SEMH needs in schools. It seeks to equip educators with the understanding and tools to navigate the emotional landscapes of their students, fostering an education system that is empathetic, supportive, and truly child centred.

Scene Plan

A scene plan for conveying this information in a compelling and engaging manner.

Scene 1: Post-COVID Education Landscape
A visually impactful scene showing the disruption caused by COVID-19 in the education sector. Emphasize the increased pressure on students and teachers, and the particular struggles of disadvantaged children.

Scene 2: Humanistic Approach to Education
Introduce the concept of a humanistic approach to education, emphasising empathy, child-centred learning, and respect for the rights of the child. This is the scene where the principles from the UNCRC can be showcased.

Scene 3: Presentation of Theoretical Frameworks
Break down each of the main psychological theories involved, including Silvan Tomkins' Theory of Affect Script, Nathanson's Compass of Shame, the Social Discipline Window, and Self Determination Theory. Use compelling visuals to help make these theories accessible and relatable.

Scene 4: Buckinghamshire Council's PACT Values
Display the alignment of the initiative with the council's values, and how the training can help promote a Proud, Ambitious, Collaborative, and Trustworthy environment.

Scene 5: Overview of Training Structure and Modules
Present a visual breakdown of the training's seven-day structure and 13 modules, emphasizing the gradual, interconnected approach to foster understanding and skill development.

Scene 6: Practical Application – The Case of James Illustrate the practical application of the theories and principles using the example of "James", the hypothetical 12-year-old student with sensory processing difficulties and a history of aggressive behaviour. Show how a humanistic approach might interpret and respond to his behavior.

Scene 7: Implementation and Feedback
Describe the pilot phase with educators from Early Years, Primary, and Secondary schools, emphasizing the value of feedback and adjustments before full implementation.

Scene 8: Resources and Continuous Improvement
Highlight the comprehensive training materials provided and show how they can be used for ongoing evaluation and improvement. This is also the scene where the self-assessment tool can be introduced.

Scene 9: Conclusion – Vision of a Transformative Education System
End with a vision of the empathetic, supportive, and child-centred education system that the training aims to foster, drawing upon the theoretical frameworks introduced and showcasing the potential impact of the initiative.

Executive Summary introductory video – what to expect

Slide 1: Title

Title: "Compass for Change: Advancing SEMH in Post-COVID-19 Education"
Subtitle: "A Comprehensive Training Initiative for Educators"
Authors: Dr Scott Ighavongbe-Patrick, Abigail Hills, Hayley Baverstock
Date: June 2023
Slide 2: Aim

Title: "Aim of the Initiative"
Key Point 1: "Equip educators across Early Years, Primary, and Secondary levels with necessary tools to navigate contemporary education challenges, amplified by COVID-19"
Key Point 2: "Offer a practical, accessible, and relevant framework for teachers"
Key Point 3: "Framework underpinned by principles from UNCRC and concepts from humanistic and affective psychology"
Key Point 4: "Empower educators to effectively support and champion the needs of all students, regardless of age or stage of education"
Slide 3: The Importance of Our Aim

Title: "Why Our Aim Matters"
Key Point 1: "The COVID-19 pandemic has added layers of complexity to education"
Key Point 2: "Teachers need support and resources to navigate this complex landscape"
Key Point 3: "Understanding, empathy, and effective communication are key to supporting student well-being and success"
Key Point 4: "Investing in teacher training benefits all students, at all stages of their education"

Slide 4: Introduction and Rationale

Title: "Introduction and Rationale"
Key Point 1: "COVID-19's significant disruption of education sector"
Key Point 2: "Heightened educational disparities, highlighting need for more inclusive and supportive teaching methods"
Key Point 3: "Shortfalls of rigid structures and 'one-size-fits-all' approaches in mainstream school environments"
Key Point 4: "Our training empowers educators with skills and knowledge to better support all children and young people"
Slide 5: Humanistic and Affective Psychology

Title: "Humanistic and Affective Psychology in Education"
Key Point 1: "Theories from humanistic and affective psychology inform our approach"
Key Point 2: "Integration of the United Nations Convention on the Rights of the Child (UNCRC)"
Key Point 3: "Fostering self-reflection, cultivating empathic understanding, and creating positive and inclusive learning environments"
Key Point 4: "Preparing educators to navigate post-pandemic challenges and foster a more equitable educational system"
Slide 6: Navigating the Post-Pandemic Landscape

Title: "Navigating the Post-Pandemic Landscape"
Key Point 1: "Severe impact of COVID-19 on education and disadvantaged children"
Key Point 2: "Emerging challenges in post-pandemic recovery and the necessity of inclusive pedagogies"
Key Point 3: "The urgency of addressing learning gaps exacerbated by the pandemic"
Key Point 4: "Opportunities for change: reimagining education to foster inclusivity, diversity, and equal opportunity"

Slide 7: Prioritising the Most Disadvantaged Demographic

Title: "Prioritising the Most Disadvantaged Demographic"
Key Point 1: "Post-COVID era emphasises need for educational reform, particularly for most disadvantaged"
Key Point 2: "Disadvantaged groups face numerous barriers to success, overrepresented in exclusion figures"
Key Point 3: "Failures of traditional teaching models, leading to poor academic outcomes and SEMH needs"
Key Point 4: "Pressing need to rethink teaching approach, promote holistic development and inclusivity"

Slide 8: An Inclusive Training Programme

Title: "Charting a New Course: An Inclusive Training Programme"
Key Point 1: "Proposal of inclusive, whole-school training programme"
Key Point 2: "Robust theoretical foundation coupled with practical techniques"
Key Point 3: "Pilot programme in select schools for iterative adjustments"

Key Point 4: "Programme as a steppingstone towards a more inclusive and equitable education system"

Slide 9: Understanding Our Children and Young People

Title: "Understanding Our Children and Young People"
Key Point 1: "Need for comprehensive understanding of students, particularly the most disadvantaged"
Key Point 2: "Importance of an inclusive and supportive education, acknowledging each student's inherent worth"
Key Point 3: "Range of challenges faced by vulnerable students"
Key Point 4: "Training initiative aims to equip educators to recognise and respond to these challenges"
Slide 10: Honouring Student Voices

Title: "Honouring Student Voices: Insights from Research and Case Studies"
Key Point 1: "Integration of insights from doctoral research and case studies into the training"
Key Point 2: "Perspectives of students who have experienced exclusion"
Key Point 3: "First-hand accounts shedding light on improvements for the education system"
Key Point 4: "Evolution of education system to better support all students"

Slide 11: Theoretical Foundations

Title: "Theoretical Foundations"
Key Point 1: "Introduction to humanistic and affective psychology principles"
Key Point 2: "Emphasising interconnectedness of student's challenges"
Key Point 3: "Role of empathy, respect, and nurturing potential in teaching"
Key Point 4: "Affect-Behaviour Connection and Affective Barriers to Learning"
Slide 12: An Introduction to Humanistic and Affective Psychology

Title: "An Introduction to Humanistic and Affective Psychology"
Key Point 1: "Humanistic psychology: Drive towards self-actualisation, holistic view of challenges"
Key Point 2: "Affective psychology: Role of emotions ('affects') and 'affect scripts' in student behaviour"
Key Point 3: "Importance of empathy and respect in addressing affect scripts"
Key Point 4: "Nurturing individual potential for a more inclusive learning environment"
Slide 13: The Affect-Behaviour Connection and Affective Barriers to Learning

Title: "The Affect-Behaviour Connection and Affective Barriers to Learning"
Key Point 1: "Understanding the role of emotions in learning and behaviour"
Key Point 2: "Impact of negative emotions and affective barriers on student engagement"
Key Point 3: "Improved management of classroom dynamics and emotional well-being"
Slide 14: Tomkins' Affect Script and Nathanson's Compass of Shame

Title: "Tomkins' Affect Script and Nathanson's Compass of Shame"

Key Point 1: "Insights into emotional experiences of students, particularly those facing adversity"
Key Point 2: "Effective response to students' emotional needs for an inclusive environment"
Slide 15: Tompkins' Theory of Affect Script

Title: "Tompkins' Theory of Affect Script"
Key Point 1: "Concept of 'affect scripts': scenarios guiding emotional understanding and responses"
Key Point 2: "Affect scripts learned through socialisation and experiences"
Key Point 3: "Influence of affect scripts on behaviour, decision-making, and social interactions"
Key Point 4: "Tailoring support strategies by understanding individual's affect scripts"

Slide 16: The Concept of Psychological Shame

Title: "The Concept of Psychological Shame"
Key Point 1: "Shame: Perception of self as flawed, inadequate, or unworthy"
Key Point 2: "Beyond embarrassment - self-criticism, self-condemnation, vulnerability"
Key Point 3: "Triggers: Real or imagined transgressions, fear of judgment or rejection"
Key Point 4: "Impacts: Mental health, self-esteem, interpersonal relationships, maladaptive coping strategies"
Key Point 5: "Importance: Understanding shame for effective interventions and support strategies"
Slide 17: Nathanson's Compass of Shame

Title: "Nathanson's Compass of Shame"
Key Point 1: "Expansion of Tomkins' affect theory"
Key Point 2: "Four responses to shame: Withdrawal, avoidance, attack self, attack others"
Key Point 3: "Responses as maladaptive coping mechanisms"
Key Point 4: "Recognising responses for effective interventions, healthier coping strategies, and improved well-being"

Slide 18: The Central Executive

Title: "The Central Executive"
Key Point 1: "Derived from affective psychology"
Key Point 2: "Acts as an internal guiding mechanism towards experiences that stimulate interest and joy"
Key Point 3: "Driven by inherent curiosity and the need for intellectual growth"
Key Point 4: "Impediments like negative affect scripts or emotional barriers trigger negative affects"
Key Point 5: "Understanding the Central Executive helps comprehend how our emotional experiences guide our behaviors and responses"

Slide 19: The New Framework and Its Application

Title: "Empathetic Educational Framework (EEF)"

Key Point 1: "Designed to foster inclusive and supportive learning environments"
Key Point 2: "Emphasizes empathy, active listening, and acknowledging children's rights"
Key Point 3: "Acknowledges role of Central Executive in managing information in the brain"
Key Point 4: "Promotes nurturing of individual potential and inclusive classroom"
Key Point 5: "Training modules developed to help educators apply EEF effectively"

Slide 20: Structure of the Training Programme

Title: "Structure of the Training Programme"
Key Point 1: "Seven days of AM and PM sessions"
Key Point 2: "Starts with foundational concepts like children's rights and affective barriers"
Key Point 3: "Delves into specific psychological theories"
Key Point 4: "Focus on practical applications and effective communication"
Key Point 5: "Emphasizes importance of early intervention and flexibility in curriculum"
Slide 21: The Programme Conclusion

Title: "The Programme Conclusion"
Key Point 1: "Final day dedicated to reflective practices and final wrap-up"
Key Point 2: "Provides educators opportunity to assimilate and consolidate learning"
Key Point 3: "Allows educators to contemplate practical applications in their teaching practice"
Key Point 4: "Clarify any residual queries"
Key Point 5: "Programme aligns meticulously with EEF, blending theoretical understanding with practical implementation"

Slide 22: Early Identification and Intervention Strategies - Introduction

Title: "Early Identification and Intervention Strategies"
Key Point 1: "Aim: Equip educators with skills for early identification of learning/behavioral difficulties"
Key Point 2: "Importance: Timely intervention to prevent snowball effect on learning and development"
Slide 23: Understanding the Context

Title: "Understanding the Context"
Key Point 1: "Covid-19 has significantly impacted students' mental health"
Key Point 2: "Surge in cases of anxiety and emotionally based school avoidance"
Key Point 3: "Addressing these emotional challenges is essential"
Slide 24: Recognising Challenges

Title: "Recognising Challenges"
Key Point 1: "Module focuses on signs and symptoms of common learning and behavioural difficulties"
Key Point 2: "Special focus on anxiety and school avoidance behaviours"
Key Point 3: "Emphasizes signs prevalent among disadvantaged and neurodiverse students"
Slide 25: Observational Techniques

Title: "Observational Techniques"
Key Point 1: "Discussion on effective strategies for observation within the classroom"
Key Point 2: "Importance of cultivating relationships for open communication"
Key Point 3: "Techniques for identifying anxiety and school avoidance early"
Slide 26: Application of Humanistic Psychology

Title: "Application of Humanistic Psychology"
Key Point 1: "Exploring principles from humanistic psychology to create supportive learning environment"
Key Point 2: "Guidance on addressing challenges faced by disadvantaged and neurodiverse students post-pandemic"
Slide 27: Intervention Strategies

Title: "Intervention Strategies"
Key Point 1: "Introduction of evidence-based intervention strategies"
Key Point 2: "Strategies tailored for disadvantaged and neurodiverse students"
Key Point 3: "Flexibility of strategies to manage range of student needs"
Slide 28: Case Studies

Title: "Case Studies"
Key Point 1: "Showcasing successful application of early identification and intervention strategies"
Key Point 2: "Scenarios involving disadvantaged and neurodiverse students"
Key Point 3: "Practical examples of strategies in action"
Slide 29: Resources

Title: "Resources"
Key Point 1: "Checklist of common indicators of learning and behavioural difficulties"
Key Point 2: "Guide on effective observation techniques and relationship-building strategies"
Key Point 3: "Comprehensive list of potential intervention strategies and guidance on application"
Slide 30: Conclusion

Title: "Conclusion"
Key Point 1: "Goal: Equip educators for early identification and intervention"
Key Point 2: "Promote success and well-being of every student, regardless of their background or neurodiversity"

Slide 31: Educator's UNCRC-Based Self-Assessment Matrix - Introduction

Title: "Educator's UNCRC-Based Self-Assessment Matrix"
Key Point 1: "Matrix: Bridge connecting teaching practices with UNCRC principles"
Key Point 2: "Importance: Align teaching practices with children's rights"
Slide 32: Matrix Structure and UNCRC Correlation

Title: "Matrix Structure and UNCRC Correlation"
Key Point 1: "Explanation of different UNCRC articles represented in the matrix"

Key Point 2: "Focus on practical implications of these articles in teaching practice"
Slide 33: Domains and Indicators

Title: "Domains and Indicators"
Key Point 1: "Matrix organized into specific domains related to UNCRC articles"
Key Point 2: "Observable indicators exemplify adherence to these articles"
Key Point 3: "Self-assessment through rating alignment with indicators"
Slide 34: Gamification

Title: "Gamification"
Key Point 1: "Matrix incorporates gamified elements to encourage engagement"
Key Point 2: "Educators earn points based on their rating, monitor progress, set personal goals"
Slide 35: Self-Assessment and Reflection

Title: "Self-Assessment and Reflection"
Key Point 1: "Importance of self-reflection and honesty in using the matrix"
Key Point 2: "Guidance provided for educators during self-assessment process"
Slide 36: Personalized Action Plans

Title: "Personalized Action Plans"
Key Point 1: "Professional growth through creation of action plans tailored to improvement areas"
Slide 37: Ongoing Self-Assessment and Collaboration

Title: "Ongoing Self-Assessment and Collaboration"
Key Point 1: "Promotion of continuous self-assessment and sharing among educators"
Key Point 2: "Fostering a culture of collaboration and mutual support"
Slide 38: Building Effective Home-School Communication - Importance

Title: "Building Effective Home-School Communication"
Key Point 1: "Significance of home-school communication in educational partnership"
Key Point 2: "Enhanced communication improves student outcomes and fortifies school community"
Slide 39: Navigating Communication Barriers

Title: "Navigating Communication Barriers"
Key Point 1: "Understanding potential hurdles to effective communication"
Key Point 2: "Strategies to surmount barriers and ensure inclusive communication"
Slide 40: Tools and Platforms for Optimal Communication

Title: "Tools and Platforms for Optimal Communication"
Key Point 1: "Introduction to tools and platforms facilitating seamless communication"
Key Point 2: "Inclusion of traditional mechanisms and digital avenues"
Slide 41: Fostering Essential Communication Skills

Title: "Fostering Essential Communication Skills"

Key Point 1: "Focus on imparting crucial communication skills"
Key Point 2: "Skills include active listening, cultural competency, patience, and adaptability"
Slide 42: Cultivating a Home-School Partnership

Title: "Cultivating a Home-School Partnership"
Key Point 1: "Ways to cultivate genuine partnership between home and school"
Key Point 2: "Emphasis on mutual respect, collaboration, and shared responsibility"
Slide 43: Practical Application via Case Studies and Role Plays

Title: "Practical Application via Case Studies and Role Plays"
Key Point 1: "Opportunities for educators to apply communication skills through case studies and role plays"
Slide 44: Resources to Support Home-School Communication

Title: "Resources to Support Home-School Communication"
Key Point 1: "Guidelines for Effective Communication"
Key Point 2: "Communication Toolkit"
Key Point 3: "Parent/Guardian Survey"
Slide 45: Conclusion

Title: "Conclusion"
Key Point 1: "Ongoing feedback and improvement mechanism"
Key Point 2: "Iterative approach to keep program responsive and tailored to community needs"

Slide 46: Implementing the Training - Introduction

Title: "Implementing the Training"
Key Point 1: "Logistical steps involved in launching the training program"
Key Point 2: "From pilot testing to full-scale implementation"
Slide 47: Pilot Testing and Feedback Collection

Title: "Pilot Testing and Feedback Collection"
Key Point 1: "Pilot phase involves educators from Early Years, Primary, and Secondary within 10 schools"
Key Point 2: "Benefits of pilot phase: refine program, identify issues, estimate costs and resources"
Slide 48: Adjustments Based on Feedback

Title: "Adjustments Based on Feedback"
Key Point 1: "Process of analyzing feedback from pilot phase"
Key Point 2: "Use feedback to refine training program"
Slide 49: Suggested Training Schedule and Format

Title: "Suggested Training Schedule and Format"
Key Point 1: "Proposed schedule for training program"
Key Point 2: "Preferred format: in-person, online, or hybrid"

Slide 50: Addressing Potential Barriers and Limitations

Title: "Addressing Potential Barriers and Limitations"
Key Point 1: "Acknowledge potential barriers such as time constraints, resistance, lack of resources"
Key Point 2: "Strategies to address these challenges for successful implementation"
Slide 51: Overview of Training Modules - Part I

Title: "Overview of Training Modules"
Key Point 1: "Module I: Introduction to Children's Rights in Education - Understanding the UNCRC"
Key Point 2: "Module II: Recognising and Addressing Affective Barriers"
Key Point 3: "Module III: Promoting Emotional Well-being"
Key Point 4: "Module IV: Implementing Humanistic and Affective Approaches"
Slide 52: Overview of Training Modules - Part II

Title: "Continued: Overview of Training Modules"
Key Point 1: "Module V: Understanding and Using Tomkins' Affect Script"
Key Point 2: "Module VI: Applying Nathanson's Compass of Shame"
Key Point 3: "Module VII: Creating Safe Spaces for Vulnerability"
Key Point 4: "Module VIII: Enhancing Communication and Empathy"
Slide 53: Overview of Training Modules - Part III

Title: "Continued: Overview of Training Modules"
Key Point 1: "Module IX: Tailoring Approaches for Neurodiverse Students"
Key Point 2: "Module X: Fostering Effective Home-School Communication"
Key Point 3: "Module XI: Prioritising Early Intervention and Support"
Key Point 4: "Module XII: Building Flexibility into Curriculum and Instruction"
Slide 54: Overview of Training Modules - Conclusion

Title: "Final Module and Concluding Remarks"
Key Point 1: "Module XIII: Final Wrap-up and Reflective Practices"
Key Point 2: "Encouragement of ongoing self-reflection and professional growth"
Slide 55: More Information in Appendices

Title: "More Information in Appendices"
Key Point 1: "Detailed description of each module"
Key Point 2: "Supplementary materials and relevant resources to support educators"

Slide 56: Module 1 - Title Slide

Title: "Module 1: Introduction to the UNCRC"
Subtitle: "Understanding Children's Rights in the Educational Context"
Key Point 1: "Introduction of the UNCRC, its purpose, and its relevance in education."
Slide 57: Overview of the UNCRC

Title: "What is the UNCRC?"

Key Point 1: "Definition and history of the UNCRC"
Key Point 2: "Four fundamental principles of the UNCRC"
Key Point 3: "Global importance and ratification of the UNCRC"
Slide 58: The UNCRC and Education

Title: "The UNCRC's Role in Education"
Key Point 1: "Article 28 (Right to education) and Article 29 (Goals of education)"
Key Point 2: "Importance of a balanced, holistic approach to education"
Image: An infographic or symbolic image representing holistic education
Slide 59: UNCRC in Practice

Title: "The UNCRC Principles in Practice"
Key Point 1: "Article 12 (Right to be heard) and Article 40 (Right to dignity) in education"
Key Point 2: "Case study of a shift from punitive measures to restorative justice practices"
Image: Before and after scenario illustrations or an infographic on restorative justice
Slide 60: Discussion and Reflection

Title: "Reflecting on the UNCRC Principles in our Practices"
Key Point 1: "Prompt questions for reflection"
Image: Reflective mirror or a thought bubble image
Slide 61: Activity Materials - Breakdown Activity Sheet

Title: "UNCRC Breakdown Activity Sheet: Applying the UNCRC in Our Classrooms"
Key Point 1: "Sections: Assigned Article(s), Definition and Explanation, Classroom Application Ideas, Potential Challenges and Solutions, Group Members"
Slide 62: Activity Materials - Case Studies Handout

Title: "Case Studies - UNCRC in Action"
Key Point 1: "Sections: Overview of the Situation (Pre-UNCRC Integration), Steps Taken to Implement UNCRC Principles, Outcome and Benefits, Reflection"
Slide 63: Activity Materials - Personal Reflection Worksheet

Title: "My Classroom and the UNCRC"
Key Point 1: "Sections: Current Practices (Strengths), Areas for Improvement (UNCRC Articles to focus on), Action Plan (Steps to Integrate UNCRC Principles), Support Needed (Resources, Training, etc.)"

Slide 64: Module 2 - Title Slide

Title: "Module 2: Recognising and Addressing Affective Barriers"
Subtitle: "Enhancing Learning Through Emotional Intelligence"
Key Point 1: "Introduction to the focus on affective barriers in the learning environment."
Slide 65: Understanding Affective Barriers

Title: "What are Affective Barriers?"
Key Point 1: "Definition of affective barriers in the context of learning."
Key Point 2: "Understanding the sources of these barriers and their impact on learning."

Slide 66: Recognising Affective Barriers

Title: "Identifying Affective Barriers in Students"
Key Point 1: "The importance of recognising affective barriers in students."
Key Point 2: "Observing student behavior and emotional responses to detect potential affective barriers."
Slide 67: Addressing Affective Barriers

Title: "Strategies to Address Affective Barriers"
Key Point 1: "Strategies for addressing affective barriers in the classroom."
Key Point 2: "The importance of maintaining professional boundaries while addressing affective barriers."
Slide 68: Discussion and Reflection

Title: "Reflecting on Our Role in Addressing Affective Barriers"
Key Point 1: "Reflecting on past experiences in supporting students dealing with affective barriers."
Key Point 2: "Considering strategies for proactive identification and management of affective barriers."
Slide 69: Activity Materials - Affective Barriers Scenario Cards

Title: "Addressing Affective Barriers - Scenario Practice"
Key Point 1: "Using scenario cards to practice identifying and addressing affective barriers."
Slide 70: Activity Materials - Affective Barriers Strategy Handout

Title: "Addressing Affective Barriers - Strategies at a Glance"
Key Point 1: "Using a handout as a reference guide for addressing affective barriers."
Slide 71: Activity Materials - Personal Reflection Worksheet

Title: "My Approach to Affective Barriers"
Key Point 1: "Reflecting on personal strengths, areas for improvement, and support needs regarding affective barriers."
Key Point 2: "Creating a personal action plan for better addressing affective barriers in the classroom."

Slide 72: Module 3 - Title Slide

Title: "Module 3: Promoting Emotional Well-being"
Subtitle: "Cultivating Emotionally Nurturing Learning Environments"
Key Point 1: "Introduction to the focus of this module on promoting emotional well-being in the classroom."
Slide 73: Understanding Emotional Well-being

Title: "The Importance of Emotional Well-being in Education"
Key Point 1: "Defining emotional well-being and its critical role in learning, behavior, and relationships within an educational setting."

Key Point 2: "The crucial responsibility of educators and schools in promoting emotional well-being amongst students."
Slide 74: Strategies to Promote Emotional Well-being

Title: "Classroom Strategies for Promoting Emotional Well-being"
Key Point 1: "Highlighting various strategies for promoting emotional well-being, including creating a supportive environment, fostering positive relationships, teaching emotional literacy, integrating mindfulness practices, and providing opportunities for success."
Key Point 2: "The significant impact of these strategies on students' emotional health."
Slide 75: Responding to Emotional Distress

Title: "Navigating Emotional Distress in Students"
Key Point 1: "The importance of effectively responding to students experiencing emotional distress, including understanding triggers, providing appropriate support, and knowing when to seek additional help."
Slide 76: Reflection and Discussion

Title: "Reflecting on Our Practice"
Key Point 1: "Encouragement of reflection on current practices related to emotional well-being promotion and consideration of changes to better support students' emotional health."
Slide 77: Activity Materials - Emotional Well-being Scenario Cards

Title: "Promoting Emotional Well-being - Scenario Practice"
Key Point 1: "Introducing scenario cards that offer different situations related to emotional well-being, prompting identification of emotional needs, discussion of responses, and development of an action plan."
Slide 78: Activity Materials - Emotional Well-being Strategy Handout

Title: "Promoting Emotional Well-being - Strategies at a Glance"
Key Point 1: "Introducing a handout that provides a quick reference guide summarizing key strategies for promoting emotional well-being."
Slide 79: Activity Materials - Personal Reflection Worksheet

Title: "My Approach to Emotional Well-being"
Key Point 1: "Introducing a worksheet for self-reflection on personal strengths and areas for improvement related to promoting emotional well-being."
Key Point 2: "Encouragement of the development of a personal action plan for enhancing emotional well-being in the classroom."

Slide 80: Module 4 - Title Slide

Title: "Module 4: Implementing Humanistic and Affective Approaches"
Subtitle: "Enhancing Teaching through Understanding and Empathy"
Key Point 1: "Introduction to the focus of this module on humanistic and affective approaches to teaching and learning."
Slide 81: Understanding Humanistic and Affective Approaches

Title: "An Overview of Humanistic and Affective Approaches"
Key Point 1: "Defining humanistic and affective approaches, their key principles, and relevance in teaching and learning."
Key Point 2: "Emphasizing the learner-centered and emotional aspects of these approaches."
Slide 82: Implementing Humanistic and Affective Approaches

Title: "Strategies for Applying Humanistic and Affective Approaches"
Key Point 1: "Presenting strategies for implementing these approaches in the classroom, including promoting self-expression, valuing individual experiences, and fostering a supportive environment."
Slide 83: Challenges and Solutions

Title: "Navigating Challenges in Implementing Humanistic and Affective Approaches"
Key Point 1: "Discussing potential obstacles in implementing these approaches, and proposing solutions to navigate these challenges."
Slide 84: Reflection and Discussion

Title: "Reflecting on Our Practice"
Key Point 1: "Promoting reflection on current teaching practices in light of humanistic and affective approaches, and considering areas for growth."
Slide 85: Activity Materials - Scenario Practice Worksheet

Title: "Implementing Humanistic and Affective Approaches - Scenario Practice"
Key Point 1: "Introducing scenario-based worksheets that provide practice situations for applying humanistic and affective approaches, promoting group discussion, action plan development, and reflection."
Slide 86: Activity Materials - Strategy Reference Handout

Title: "Humanistic and Affective Approach Strategies at a Glance"
Key Point 1: "Presenting a reference handout summarizing key strategies for implementing humanistic and affective approaches in the classroom."
Slide 87: Activity Materials - Personal Reflection Worksheet

Title: "My Approach to Humanistic and Affective Teaching"
Key Point 1: "Introducing a self-reflection worksheet for analyzing personal practice of humanistic and affective approaches, identifying strengths and areas for improvement, and developing an action plan."

Slide 88: Module 5 - Title Slide

Title: "Module 5: Understanding and Using Tomkins' Affect Script"
Key Point 1: "Introduction to the module's aim of exploring Tomkins' Affect Script psychology and how it can support students' emotional wellbeing."
Slide 89: Introduction to Tomkins' Affect Script

Title: "What is Tomkins' Affect Script?"
Key Point 1: "Brief overview of Tomkins' Affect Script psychology and a diagram illustrating the concept."
Slide 90: Importance in Education

Title: "Why is Tomkins' Affect Script Important in Education?"
Key Point 1: "Discussion on how the understanding and application of Tomkins' Affect Script can enhance students' emotional wellbeing, learning, and engagement."
Key Point 2: "A visual depiction of the connection between affect script and student success."
Slide 91: Practical Application

Title: "Applying Tomkins' Affect Script in the Classroom"
Key Point 1: "Presentation of concrete strategies for applying Affect Script concept in the classroom, along with icons representing each strategy."
Slide 92: Reflection and Group Discussion

Title: "Reflecting on Our Practice"
Key Point 1: "Prompt questions for reflection and group discussion on the application of affect scripts in teaching practice."
Slide 93: Activity Materials - Case Study Worksheet

Title: "Applying Tomkins' Affect Script - Case Study Analysis"
Key Point 1: "Introduction to the case study worksheet, guiding educators to analyze scenarios where understanding of affect scripts can be beneficial."
Slide 94: Activity Materials - Strategy Reference Handout

Title: "Strategies for Applying Tomkins' Affect Script"
Key Point 1: "Introduction to the strategy reference handout, detailing specific strategies for applying an understanding of affect scripts in the classroom."
Slide 95: Activity Materials - Personal Reflection Worksheet

Title: "My Approach to Using Tomkins' Affect Script"
Key Point 1: "Introduction to the self-reflection worksheet for assessing understanding and application of Tomkins' Affect Script, and identifying areas for growth."

Slide 96: Module 6 - Title Slide

Title: "Module 6: Applying Nathanson's Compass of Shame"
Key Point 1: "Welcome to Module 6, which focuses on understanding and applying Nathanson's Compass of Shame to support students in the classroom."
Slide 97: Introduction to Nathanson's Compass of Shame

Title: "What is Nathanson's Compass of Shame?"
Key Point 1: "An overview of Nathanson's Compass of Shame, detailing its four poles: Withdrawal, Avoidance, Attack Self, Attack Other."
Slide 98: The Role of Shame in Student Behaviour

Title: "How Does Shame Influence Student Behaviour?"
Key Point 1: "Explanation of how shame can trigger various behaviours in students and the connection of these behaviours to the four poles of Nathanson's Compass of Shame."
Slide 99: Strategies for Responding to Shame

Title: "How Can We Respond to Shame in the Classroom?"
Key Point 1: "Discussion of strategies to recognise and respond to feelings of shame in students, and promoting a supportive and empowering classroom environment."
Slide 100: Reflection and Group Discussion

Title: "Reflecting on Our Approach to Shame"
Key Point 1: "Invitation to reflect on personal experiences and practices dealing with shame in the classroom, and to share strategies for future improvement."
Slide 101: Activity Materials - Case Study Worksheet

Title: "Identifying and Addressing Shame - Case Study Analysis"
Key Point 1: "Introduction to the case study worksheet that guides educators to analyse scenarios where students display signs of shame, and to develop appropriate response strategies."
Slide 102: Activity Materials - Strategy Reference Handout

Title: "Strategies for Addressing Shame"
Key Point 1: "Introduction to the reference handout outlining specific strategies for identifying and responding to shame in the classroom."
Slide 103: Activity Materials - Personal Reflection Worksheet

Title: "My Approach to Identifying and Addressing Shame"
Key Point 1: "Introduction to the self-reflection worksheet that encourages educators to reflect on their practices, identify strengths and areas for improvement, and create an action plan to address feelings of shame in the classroom more effectively."

Slide 104: Module 7 - Title Slide

Title: "Module 7: Creating Safe Spaces for Vulnerability"
Key Point 1: "Welcome to Module 7, which focuses on creating environments of trust and open communication in the classroom."
Slide 105: Understanding Vulnerability in the Classroom

Title: "The Role of Vulnerability in Learning"
Key Point 1: "Detailed explanation of the concept of vulnerability, its role in learning, and the importance of students feeling safe expressing vulnerabilities."
Slide 106: The Elements of a Safe Space

Title: "What Makes a Safe Space?"
Key Point 1: "Insights into the key elements of a safe space – trust, respect, empathy, understanding, and a non-judgmental attitude."

Slide 107: Strategies for Creating Safe Spaces

Title: "Practical Strategies for Creating Safe Spaces"
Key Point 1: "Presentation of practical strategies for fostering key elements of a safe space in the classroom, with supportive examples."
Slide 108: Reflection and Group Discussion

Title: "Reflecting on Our Classroom Environment"
Key Point 1: "Opportunity for reflective thinking and group discussions around current strategies and innovative ideas to enhance the safety of the learning environment."
Slide 109: Activity Materials - Role-Play Scenarios Worksheet

Title: "Practicing Safe Space Creation - Role-Play Scenarios"
Key Point 1: "Introduction to the role-play scenarios worksheet that guides educators to practice creating safe spaces, with discussions of observations and learnings."
Slide 110: Activity Materials - Strategy Reference Handout

Title: "Strategies for Creating Safe Spaces"
Key Point 1: "Introduction to the reference handout detailing specific strategies for creating environments conducive to openness and vulnerability."
Slide 111: Activity Materials - Personal Reflection Worksheet

Title: "My Approach to Creating Safe Spaces"
Key Point 1: "Introduction to the reflection worksheet that encourages educators to assess their practices, identify strengths and areas for improvement, and devise an action plan for creating safer, more open classroom environments."

Slide 112: Module 8 - Title Slide

Title: "Module 8: Enhancing Communication and Empathy"
Key Point 1: "Welcome to Module 8: a journey towards enhanced understanding and connection through improved communication and empathy."
Slide 113: The Power of Communication and Empathy

Title: "Why Focus on Communication and Empathy?"
Key Point 1: "Discussion on the importance of effective communication and empathy in education and their contribution to improved student outcomes."
Slide 114: Improving Communication Skills

Title: "Pathways to Enhanced Communication"
Key Point 1: "Insights into techniques and strategies for refining communication skills, such as active listening, clarity, openness, and understanding body language."
Slide 115: Cultivating Empathy in Education

Title: "Fostering Empathy: A Guide for Educators"
Key Point 1: "Examination of strategies for nurturing empathy, including perspective-taking, validating feelings, and understanding emotional literacy."

Slide 116: Reflection and Group Discussion

Title: "Reflecting on Our Communication and Empathy Practices"
Key Point 1: "Opportunity for reflection on current communication and empathy practices, and a platform for discussion on successful strategies and ways to improve."
Slide 117: Activity Materials - Communication Practice Worksheet

Title: "Practicing Effective Communication - Role-Play Scenarios"
Key Point 1: "Introduction to role-play scenarios designed to help educators practice and refine their communication strategies."
Slide 118: Activity Materials - Empathy-building Activity Guide

Title: "Cultivating Empathy - Activity Guide"
Key Point 1: "Presentation of the guide with step-by-step instructions for activities designed to foster empathy."
Slide 119: Activity Materials - Personal Reflection Worksheet

Title: "Reflecting on My Communication and Empathy Skills"
Key Point 1: "Introduction to the reflection worksheet that encourages educators to assess their current practices, identify strengths and areas for improvement, and create an action plan to enhance their communication and empathy skills."

Slide 120: Module 9 - Title Slide

Title: "Module 9: Tailoring Approaches for Neurodiverse Students"
Key Point 1: "Welcome to Module 9: a journey towards creating an inclusive and understanding learning environment for neurodiverse students."
Slide 121: Understanding Neurodiversity

Title: "What is Neurodiversity?"
Key Point 1: "Explanation of the concept of neurodiversity, the range of conditions it encompasses, and its relevance in the context of education."
Slide 122: The Strengths Perspective

Title: "Focusing on Strengths"
Key Point 1: "Insight into the strengths-based approach and its value when working with neurodiverse students."
Slide 123: Tailoring Teaching Approaches

Title: "Adapting Our Teaching Approaches"
Key Point 1: "Presentation of techniques and strategies for adapting teaching methods to cater to the needs of neurodiverse students."
Slide 124: Case Study and Group Discussion

Title: "Applying our Learning: Case Study and Discussion"
Key Point 1: "Introduction of a case study featuring an educator effectively tailoring their approach for a neurodiverse student, followed by group discussions."

Slide 125: Activity Materials - Scenario Cards

Title: "Neurodiversity in the Classroom - Scenario Cards"
Key Point 1: "Presentation of scenario cards highlighting various classroom situations involving a neurodiverse student, prompting discussion about how to tailor teaching approaches."
Slide 126: Activity Materials - Strategy Planning Worksheet

Title: "Planning Inclusive Strategies"
Key Point 1: "Introduction to the Strategy Planning Worksheet, allowing educators to develop teaching strategies considering the unique strengths and challenges of a hypothetical neurodiverse student."
Slide 127: Activity Materials - Personal Reflection Worksheet

Title: "Reflecting on My Practices for Neurodiverse Students"
Key Point 1: "Presentation of a personal reflection worksheet for educators to assess their current practices for neurodiverse students, identify areas for growth, and formulate an action plan to improve."

Slide 128: Module 10 - Title Slide

Title: "Module 10: Fostering Effective Home-School Communication"
Key Point 1: "Introduction to the topic of Home-School communication, its relevance, and the aim of the module."
Slide 129: Importance of Home-School Communication

Title: "Why Home-School Communication Matters"
Key Point 1: "Explanation of the benefits of effective home-school communication, and its influence on student success."
Slide 130: Strategies for Effective Communication

Title: "Strategies for Strengthening Home-School Ties"
Key Point 1: "Overview of strategies to improve communication with parents and guardians, including regular updates, accessibility, mutual respect, and responsiveness."
Slide 131: Reflection on Training Series

Title: "Reflecting on Our Learning Journey"
Key Point 1: "Prompts for reflecting on key learnings from the entire training series and how these can be applied in practice."
Slide 132: Action Planning

Title: "Planning for Practice: From Learning to Action"
Key Point 1: "Guidance on how to develop an action plan based on the training series, focusing on improving home-school communication and other learned skills."
Slide 133: Activity Materials - Group Discussion Prompts

Title: "Reflecting on Our Learning - Group Discussion Prompts"

Key Point 1: "Introduction of discussion questions on key learnings, application in practice, and insights on home-school communication."
Slide 134: Activity Materials - Action Planning Worksheet

Title: "My Action Plan"
Key Point 1: "Presentation of a worksheet guiding educators in transforming their learnings from the training series into actionable steps in their practice."
Slide 135: Activity Materials - Personal Reflection Worksheet

Title: "Reflecting on My Learning and Practice"
Key Point 1: "Introduction of a worksheet prompting educators to reflect on their entire learning journey, their areas of growth, and their plans for implementing their learnings."

Slide 136: Module 11 - Title Slide

Title: "Module 11: Prioritising Early Intervention and Support"
Key Point 1: "Introduction to the concept of Early Intervention and Support, its relevance, and an overview of the module."
Slide 137: The Importance of Early Intervention

Title: "Why Early Intervention?"
Key Point 1: "Detailed explanation of the importance and benefits of early intervention, and its impact on long-term student success."
Slide 138: Identifying Signs and Symptoms

Title: "Recognising the Early Signs"
Key Point 1: "Overview of common signs and symptoms indicating learning, emotional, or behavioural difficulties in students."
Slide 139: Strategies for Early Intervention

Title: "Strategies for Effective Early Intervention"
Key Point 1: "Introduction to a range of strategies and techniques for providing support to students at the initial stages of difficulty."
Slide 140: Group Discussion and Case Study

Title: "Applying Our Knowledge: Case Study and Discussion"
Key Point 1: "Presentation of a brief case study illustrating an educator implementing early intervention strategies, with prompts for group discussion."
Slide 141: Activity Materials - Scenario Cards

Title: "Early Intervention Scenarios"
Key Point 1: "Introduction to scenario cards that provide an opportunity for educators to think through early intervention strategies."
Slide 142: Activity Materials - Strategy Implementation Worksheet

Title: "Implementing Early Intervention Strategies"

Key Point 1: "Presentation of a worksheet guiding educators in planning early intervention strategies based on hypothetical student profiles."
Slide 143: Activity Materials - Personal Reflection Worksheet

Title: "Reflecting on My Approach to Early Intervention"
Key Point 1: "Introduction of a worksheet prompting educators to reflect on their current approach to early intervention and identify areas for growth."

Slide 144: Module 12 - Title Slide

Title: "Module 12: Building Flexibility into Curriculum and Instruction"

Slide 145: Module 13 - Title Slide

Title: "Module 13: Final Wrap-up and Reflective Practices"
Subtitle: "Review, Reflect, and Grow"
A brief overview of the module's content and purpose.
Slide 146: Training Review

Title: "A Journey of Learning and Growth"
A comprehensive summary of key points from each module.
Slide 147: The Power of Reflection

Title: "Reflection as a Tool for Growth"
Discussion about the importance of reflective practice in education.
Slide 148: Continuing the Journey

Title: "Keep Growing, Keep Learning"
Encouragement for ongoing learning and growth beyond the training.
Slide 149: Feedback and Thanks

Title: "Your Feedback Matters"
A call for feedback and expression of gratitude towards participants' engagement and dedication.
Appendix N - Supplementary Materials

Slides 150-153: PowerPoint Presentations Overview

Brief descriptions of the supplementary PowerPoint presentations for each module.
Slide 154: Case Studies and Anonymized Vignettes

A summary of real-world scenarios and vignettes provided as supplementary resources for better understanding and practical application of the training.
Slide 155: Self-Assessment Tools

A quick introduction to the self-assessment tools designed for the educators' self-evaluation.

Slide 156: The UNCRC in a Table

Brief description of a simplified table format representation of the UNCRC articles, providing an easy reference guide for educators.
Slide 157: Recommended Readings and References

An overview of the additional reading materials and resources curated for the educators' continued exploration and learning.
Slide 158: The End

Conclusion of the presentation and acknowledgment of the audience's time and participation.

Slide 159: Appendix O - Vignettes

Introduction to the case studies and anonymized vignettes to be used as practical applications of the training.
Key features of the case studies and vignettes including their real-world context, anonymity, range of scenarios, and reflective prompts.
Slide 160: Appendix P - Facilitator Guide

Details about the facilitator guide, including its content and purpose.
Information about pre- and post-training assessments for measuring participants' progress and evaluating the training.
Details on the accessibility considerations for training materials.
Description of the follow-up support available for participants.
Slide 161: Appendix Q - Draft Training Handbook/Manual

Overview of the training program, including its purpose, objectives, and target audience.
Presentation of the philosophy of the training program, emphasizing its focus on children's rights, emotional well-being, empathy, early intervention, and continuous professional growth.
Outline of the program structure, including a description of each module, learning objectives, and a detailed schedule.
Slide 162: Session Details

Comprehensive description of each session, including activities, materials, and facilitator's guide.
Slide 163: Additional Resources and Assessments

Overview of the supplementary materials and resources available, including case studies, readings, and self-assessment tools.
Description of assessments and evaluations to measure the effectiveness of the training and participants' learning progress.
Slide 164: Accessibility and Follow-up Support

Guidelines for ensuring all training materials are accessible.

Information on the follow-up support available to participants, including additional resources, check-ins, and a community of practice.
Slide 165: Additional Handbook Content

Description of the contact information for the facilitators or coordinators.
Explanation of the need for a glossary of terms and a code of conduct/behavioral expectations.
Details on the certification and accreditation participants can earn.
Introduction of a troubleshooting/FAQ section to address common issues during the training.
Slide 166: The End

Conclusion of the presentation and acknowledgment of the audience's time and participation.

Doodly introduction video

Overview of the training programme for the participants, introducing key aspects such as the training's goals, methods, components, and continued support.

Slide 1:
Image: A schoolhouse with an "Open" sign.
Caption: "Welcome to your training journey! We're unlocking the doors to a more inclusive, empathetic approach to education."
Humorous note: "Don't worry, there won't be a pop quiz at the end."

Slide 2:
Image: Doodle of the United Nations Convention on the Rights of the Child (UNCRC) logo.
Caption: "Together, we'll explore the importance of the UNCRC and its practical application in the classroom."
Humorous note: "UNCRC - It's a bit of a mouthful, but don't worry, it's not a type of dinosaur."

Slide 3:
Image: A pair of binoculars looking at various emotional expressions on students' faces.
Caption: "We'll delve into the crucial task of managing students' emotional well-being, because let's face it, learning is as much emotional as it is intellectual."
Humorous note: "We've got to keep those 'feelings check-ins' just as regular as 'spell checks'."

Slide 4:
Image: A toolbox with various tools labelled with different teaching strategies.
Caption: "From our toolbox, we'll share essential strategies to overcome affective barriers and foster healthy home-school communication."
Humorous note: "We promise these tools won't require a hard hat."

Slide 5:
Image: A jigsaw puzzle with each piece representing a module of the program.
Caption: "Our program comprises 13 unique modules, each designed to fit perfectly into your teaching practices."
Humorous note: "It's like a puzzle, but without that annoying piece that always seems to go missing."

Slide 6:
Image: A doodle of participants sitting in a virtual room with breakout text bubbles.
Caption: "We value reflection and conversation, so we've built in pauses for breakout sessions. Let's grow together!"
Humorous note: "Feel free to bring your coffee, snacks, or even your pet to these breakout rooms. Just remember to share... the snacks, not the pet!"

Slide 7:
Image: A doodle of various resources such as books, online materials, and case studies.
Caption: "You'll have access to a range of resources to deepen your understanding and support your continuous learning journey."
Humorous note: "Don't worry, there's no 'one size fits all' approach here, we've got enough variety to rival a candy store."

Slide 8:
Image: A feedback form with a big thumbs-up.
Caption: "Your feedback and self-assessments are critical to shaping your learning path and improving our program."
Humorous note: "Yes, you get to grade us this time. We promise we can take it!"

Slide 9:
Image: A doodle of a globe, depicting participants from various locations.
Caption: "Our program is accessible wherever you are, and whatever your needs. We're all about inclusivity."
Humorous note: "We're global, not glo-cal. Get it? No worries, we're still working on our puns."

Slide 10:
Image: A community drawing with connected people doodles.
Caption: "Even after the program, you're part of our community. Let's keep the conversation going and the knowledge flowing."
Humorous note: "Like a great TV series, the end of the training doesn't mean it's over. No cliffhangers here though!"

Slide 11:
Image: A graduation cap and certificate.
Caption: "Congratulations! You've now got a sneak peek into what your training journey will look like. Are you ready to step in?"
Humorous note: "Spoiler Alert: You're going to be fabulous at this!"

Note: The humorous notes are meant to add a light-hearted tone to the training, they can be voiced over in a playful manner to maintain engagement and ease any possible tension.

Nathanson's Compass and Tomkins Affects

Nathanson's Compass of Shame Doodly Presentation

Scene 1 (visual of a compass): "Meet Nathanson's Compass of Shame, a psychological concept developed by Donald L. Nathanson. This compass explores how individuals react when they experience shame."

Scene 2 (visual of the compass labeled with 'Withdrawal', 'Attack Self', 'Avoidance', 'Attack Others'): "Imagine a compass. We have 'Withdrawal' on the North, 'Attack Self' on the South, 'Avoidance' on the East, and 'Attack Others' on the West. These are the four primary responses to shame according to Nathanson."

Scene 3 (visual of a person isolating themselves): "When individuals 'Withdraw', they isolate themselves, avoiding social interaction."

Scene 4 (visual of a person self-criticizing): "In the 'Attack Self' response, individuals criticize themselves and engage in self-deprecating behaviors, internalizing the shame."

Scene 5 (visual of a person distracting themselves): "Avoidance can manifest as denial, distraction, or even substance abuse. The person tries to escape the feeling of shame."

Scene 6 (visual of a person blaming another): "Finally, in the 'Attack Others' response, individuals display anger, blame, or criticism towards others, externalizing the shame."

Scene 7 (visual of a teacher and a student): "Understanding Nathanson's Compass of Shame helps educators identify different student reactions to shame, which can often be misinterpreted or overlooked."

Scene 8 (visual of a teacher comforting a student): "By recognizing these patterns, educators can empathize better with students, offering appropriate support to help navigate these feelings constructively."

Silvan Tomkins' Affect Script Theory Doodly Presentation

Scene 1 (visual of a brain): "Let's delve into Silvan Tomkins' Affect Script Theory, a psychological framework that helps us understand human motivation and behavior through the lens of 'affects' or emotions."

Scene 2 (visual of nine emotion icons): "Tomkins suggested there are nine innate affects that form our emotional experiences: Interest-Excitement, Enjoyment-Joy, Surprise-Startle, Anger-Rage, Disgust, Distress-Anguish, Fear-Terror, Shame-Humiliation, and Dis-smell."

Scene 3 (visual of positive emotion icons): "'Interest-Excitement' and 'Enjoyment-Joy' are positive affects, motivating us to learn, explore, and engage with the world."

Scene 4 (visual of Surprise-Startle icon): "'Surprise-Startle' is a neutral affect, grabbing our attention and preparing us for potential action."

Scene 5 (visual of negative emotion icons): "'Anger-Rage', 'Disgust', 'Distress-Anguish', 'Fear-Terror', 'Shame-Humiliation', and 'Dis-smell' are negative affects, signalling when things are not going well and motivating us to change our behaviour or our environment."

Scene 6 (visual of a brain and situations): "Our innate affects can be triggered by internal or external stimuli and are accompanied by expressive and physiological changes. Over time, we learn to connect these affective experiences with specific situations or 'scripts', which guide our future behaviour."

Scene 7 (visual of a classroom): "In the classroom, understanding Affect Script Theory can help us understand why students behave the way they do. Each student's behaviour is guided by their unique set of affective scripts, formed through their own experiences."

Scene 8 (visual of a teacher and a student): "Understanding this can help educators provide appropriate support, helping students navigate their feelings more constructively."

Note: The visuals described are just suggestions and will ultimately depend on the capabilities and assets of the Doodly software.

Is this what you were looking for? Let me know if any further refinements are needed.

Interlude Slide Structure

An interlude slide between each module will provide a breather for participants, marking the end of one topic and the start of another. It also offers an excellent opportunity to reinforce the LA logo, PACT values, and ISEND's mission.

Slide 1: Display the LA logo prominently with the words "Leading the way in supporting all to achieve".

Slide 2: Transition to the PACT values. Each value would be presented individually with a relevant illustration and a short explanation:

- "Proud: We take pride in our commitment to every child and young person, ensuring they receive the education they deserve."
- "Ambitious: We constantly seek innovative approaches to address the unique challenges of the current education climate."
- "Collaborative: We foster teamwork and encourage the sharing of knowledge, utilizing established psychological theories and the principles of the UNCRC."

- "Trustworthy: We provide comprehensive training materials and resources to empower educators, promoting continuous reflection and improvement."

Slide 3: Transition to a preview of the next module, maintaining anticipation and engagement. For example, "Up next, Module 2: Recognising and Addressing Affective Barriers."

Slide 4: Display a countdown or progress bar, building anticipation for the next module.

By emphasising these values in the interlude, we reinforce their importance and link them directly to the content of the training. This not only serves as a reminder of the shared mission and values, but also instils a sense of pride and commitment in the participants, motivating participants for the upcoming modules.

What to expect – make the presentation engaging, informative, and enjoyable

These interactive elements will ensure the training is engaging, participative, and helps deepen understanding of the content. The Doodle-style video, with its visual and storytelling elements, will keep participants' attention and interest throughout the training.

1. Interactive elements

Interactive Quizzes

- Module 2 Quiz: "Barrier Breaker"
  - Q1: What kind of affective barrier could cause a student to refuse to participate in group activities?

Options: a) Rejection b) Separation c) Defeat d) Shame Correct answer: a) Rejection

- Module 8 Quiz: "Empathy Evaluator"

Q1: A student is struggling to complete his project due to family issues. How would you communicate empathy?

Options: a) Give him extra homework to catch up b) Talk to him privately, acknowledge his situation and provide support c) Ignore his personal issues and focus on academics Correct answer: b) Talk to him privately, acknowledge his situation and provide support

2. Animated Storytelling

Module 5 Story: Meet 'Tina Teacher'. Tina had a student terrified of public speaking. Using Tomkins' Affect Script, Tina helps her student overcome this fear. The student goes on to confidently present in front of the class.

Module 11 Story: Introducing 'Sam Student'. Sam struggled in class until the school implemented early intervention and support strategies. Through one-on-one counseling, peer tutoring, and parental involvement, Sam transforms into an active learner.

3. Highlight Reel

'Yesterday's Recap': At the start of each day (Modules 3, 5, 7, 9, and 11), present a brief video featuring key points from the previous day's modules with catchy background music.

Day 2 (Recap of Day 1, Modules 1 & 2):
"Welcome back, everyone. On our first day, we established the importance of a Whole-School Approach to SEMH and introduced the principles of the UNCRC. We identified that educators' empathy and emotional intelligence are vital to creating a conducive learning environment. Let's continue with that momentum into day two."

Day 3 (Recap of Day 2, Modules 3 & 4):
"Yesterday, we ventured deeper into the world of emotions. We studied Silvan Tomkins's Affect Theory and explored how our innate affects or emotional responses play a role in our interactions. We also delved into the significance of Nathanson's Compass of Shame, learning to recognize different reactions to shame in our students. With this understanding, let's press on to day three."

Day 4 (Recap of Day 3, Modules 5 & 6):
"On our third day, we introduced Affect Script Psychology and discovered how early life experiences shape our emotional scripts. We also discussed affective awareness and the importance of creating a positive affective environment in schools. As we head into day four, let's apply these lessons to better support our students."

Day 5 (Recap of Day 4, Modules 7 & 8):
"Yesterday, we focused on the important aspects of emotional dynamics and relationships in the classroom. We explored ways to create emotionally supportive classroom environments and started our journey on becoming Emotion Detectives. Let's continue this journey on day five."

Day 6 (Recap of Day 5, Modules 9 & 10):
"Our fifth day was about the power of language. We examined the impact of language on emotional experiences and worked on the skills to help students articulate their feelings better. We also started to develop our 'Affect Tolerance' strategies. Today, let's continue to strengthen our emotional vocabulary and affect tolerance."

Day 7 (Recap of Day 6, Modules 11 & 12):
"On our previous day, we focused on applying our understanding of emotions to practice, particularly in building affective communication and mastering self-assessment tools. As we head into our final day, let's remember the key points and ensure we're equipped to implement this knowledge effectively in our schools."

Please note, for each day, the content of the "Highlight Reel" should be adapted based on the actual content delivered and the key points discussed. These are broad outlines and may need to be fine-tuned based on the actual discussions and progress during the training.

4. Humour and Surprise Elements

Module 4: Meet 'Humorous Henry'. Henry cracks a joke: "Why don't psychologists let you tell them jokes? Because they always analyze the punchline!"

Module 9: Say hello to 'Neuro Ninja'. With his neurodiversity superpowers, Neuro Ninja showcases his unique problem-solving skills.

5. Pause for Reflection

Module 6: After discussing Nathanson's Compass of Shame, 'Reflective Rachel' comes on screen asking participants to recall when they've seen this tool in action in their classrooms.

Module 10: 'Thoughtful Tom' prompts participants to share how they could implement effective home-school communication in their breakout rooms.

6. Use of Variety of Visuals

Module 1: An infographic titled "UNCRC: Unlocking Children's Potential" that explains key UNCRC articles in a visually engaging way.

Module 7: A flowchart titled "Blueprint of a Safe Space" showing how to create a safe, inclusive, and supportive classroom environment.

7. Engagement Check-in build into video

We have built in periodic check-ins throughout the training course to measure the engagement of all participants. This has been done through interactive polls and quick Q&A sessions. These checks are to ensure that all participants are absorbing the information and provide opportunities for real-time clarifications

Slide: A slide with a big question mark in the middle. Text appears: "Quick Check-in Time! How are you doing?"

Narration: "Let's take a moment to check in. We want to make sure that you're finding this training helpful and engaging. Do you have any questions or anything you'd like to share about what we've discussed so far?"

- Activity: Facilitate a quick interactive poll or Q&A session where participants can share their thoughts or ask questions.

8. Case Studies or Real-Life Scenarios:
   Slide: An illustration of a classroom. We see one student who appears distressed.

   Narration: "Consider this scenario: You have a student who has always been active and engaged, but recently they've become withdrawn and unresponsive. How would you apply what you've learned to help this student?"

   Activity: Participants discuss the scenario in breakout rooms and then share their insights in the main session.

9. Guest Speakers: Specialist contribution by colleagues – Multi-agency

   Slide: A slide featuring a profile picture of the guest speaker, their name, and their credentials.

   Narration: "We're excited to have [Guest Speaker Name], a renowned expert in the field of social, emotional, and mental health, with us today. They will share their valuable insights and experiences."

   Activity: Guest speaker delivers a talk, followed by a Q&A session.

10. Interactive Activities:
    Slide: A slide with a big exclamation mark in the middle. Text appears: "Activity Time!"

    Narration: "Now it's time for a group activity. In your breakout rooms, you'll be given a hypothetical scenario related to SEMH issues. Your task is to discuss and find a solution using the concepts we've learned."

    Activity: Facilitate the group activity in breakout rooms and then have each group share their solutions in the main session.

Sustainability Goals

Maintaining the knowledge and values learned from the training programme requires a sustainable plan that takes into consideration the following aspects:

1. Slide 1: Title Slide
   Image: A "chalkboard" with the words "Sustainability and Resources for Success".
   Narration: "Let's explore how to ensure the sustainability of the knowledge and values learned from our training programme and what resources will be necessary for success."

2. Slide 2: Ongoing Support
   Image: An online forum on a computer screen.
   Narration: "Ongoing support is vital. This could be online forums, Q&A sessions, or an expert panel to help discuss real-life scenarios and get advice."

3. Slide 3: Reinforcement Activities
   Image: Group of educators participating in a discussion.
   Narration: "Schools should incorporate follow-up activities that reinforce the knowledge gained. Regular discussion groups, peer coaching, or structured reflection activities are all effective."

4. Slide 4: Continuous Learning Opportunities
   Image: Stack of books and a laptop with an online course interface.
   Narration: "We should provide additional learning resources like further reading materials, online courses, and more to promote continuous learning."

5. Slide 5: Assessment and Feedback
   Image: Person filling out a feedback form.
   Narration: "A system to continually assess the application of the training is necessary. This involves observation, self-assessment, peer reviews, and feedback sessions."

6. Slide 6: Culture of Continuous Improvement
   Image: Arrow in a circle, symbolizing continuous improvement.
   Narration: "Let's cultivate an environment that values ongoing learning and improvement. Sharing best practices and experiences is encouraged."

7. Slide 7: Training for New Staff
   Image: New employee receiving training materials.
   Narration: "New staff members should receive the training too, to ensure continuity even when staff turnover occurs."

8. Slide 8: Resources – Time
   Image: Clock and a calendar.
   Narration: "Participants need dedicated time to engage in follow-up activities and continuous learning opportunities."

9. Slide 9: Resources - Access to Information
   Image: Person accessing an online library.
   Narration: "Easy access to training materials, additional resources, and support forums is crucial."

10. Slide 10: Resources - Leadership Support
    Image: School leader giving a motivational speech.
    Narration: "School leaders need to provide necessary resources and cultivate an environment that values continuous learning."

11. Slide 11: Resources – Funding
    Image: Coins and bills.
    Narration: "Some aspects of the follow-up activities may need funding."

12. Slide 12: Resources – Technology

Image: Laptop and mobile phone.
Narration: "Ensure that all participants have necessary technology and know how to use it effectively."

13. Slide 13: Closing Slide
    Image: Chalkboard with the words "Let's sustain the change together!"
    Narration: "Together, we can ensure that our training programme results in sustained changes in practice, leading to an improved learning environment for all children."

Feedback Form

Task 5: Evaluation Form Design

The goal of an evaluation form is to collect participant feedback to measure the effectiveness of the training program and identify areas for improvement.

The evaluation form should include:

Participant Information: (Optional)

Role (e.g., teacher, administrator)
Years of experience
Overall Program Evaluation:

Rating scale questions to measure overall satisfaction with the program, the relevancy of the content, and the perceived value of the program in their work.
Module Evaluation:

Participants should be asked to rate each module on its content, relevance, and usefulness. It can also ask for any areas they found challenging or would like more emphasis on in future training.
Trainer Evaluation:

Here, participants will evaluate the trainer's effectiveness, including their knowledge of the topic, ability to engage participants, clarity of communication, and responsiveness to participant questions.
Learning and Skill Application:

This section measures the participant's confidence in applying the knowledge and skills gained in their professional context.
Open-Ended Questions:

This section should ask for specific feedback on what participants liked best, least, and any areas they suggest for improvement.
Logistic Evaluation:

This part focuses on the organization and logistics of the training, such as the registration process, training schedule, materials, and platform used (if online).
Follow-up Interest:

It's useful to gauge interest in future training, related topics, or continued learning support mechanisms like communities of practice.
Each rating scale question should offer a range from "strongly disagree" to "strongly agree" or from "very poor" to "excellent," to capture a nuanced understanding of the participant's experience. The open-ended questions provide space for detailed feedback and specific suggestions.

Designing an evaluation form with these components will ensure comprehensive feedback for continual improvement of the training programme.

Slide: An image of a feedback form.

Narration: "We value your input and would love to hear your thoughts on this training programme. Please take a few minutes to fill out the feedback form that we've shared."

Activity: Share a link to the feedback form (this could be a Google Form or any other platform you prefer). Encourage participants to provide honest feedback so you can use it to improve future versions of the training programme.

Your Name: _____ (Optional)

Module Name: _____

1. Content Understanding

- The objectives of the module were clear to me.

  - Strongly agree
  - Agree
  - Neutral
  - Disagree

- Strongly disagree

- The content was well-structured and easy to follow.

  - Strongly agree
  - Agree
  - Neutral
  - Disagree
  - Strongly disagree

2. Engagement and Interactivity

- The module was engaging and held my attention.

  - Strongly agree
  - Agree
  - Neutral
  - Disagree
  - Strongly disagree

- The interactive elements (discussions, activities, etc.) were helpful in understanding the content.

  - Strongly agree
  - Agree
  - Neutral
  - Disagree
  - Strongly disagree

3. Application and Utility

- The content of this module is applicable to my work.

  - Strongly agree
  - Agree
  - Neutral
  - Disagree
  - Strongly disagree

- The module has provided me with new knowledge/skills that I can use.

  - Strongly agree
  - Agree
  - Neutral
  - Disagree
  - Strongly disagree

4. General Feedback

- Overall, I am satisfied with the module.
  - Strongly agree
  - Agree
  - Neutral
  - Disagree
  - Strongly disagree

5. Open-Ended Questions

   - What was the most valuable thing you learned in this module?

   - Is there anything that could be improved about this module?

   - Do you have any other comments or suggestions?

Module Design

A final presentation for each module and the corresponding resources

Module Structure:

Introductory Overview (15 minutes): Begin each module with an overview of the topic and its relevance in the context of children's rights in education.

In-Depth Presentation (60 minutes): Deliver a comprehensive presentation on the module topic, going into more detail on key concepts, strategies, and examples.

Interactive Discussion (30 minutes): Facilitate an interactive discussion where participants can share their thoughts, experiences, and questions on the topic.

Breakout Room Activity Part 1 (60 minutes): Introduce a hands-on activity where participants apply their learning in small groups. This could involve case studies, role plays, etc.

Lunch Break (60 minutes)

Breakout Room Activity Part 2 (60 minutes): Continue with the hands-on activity in the breakout rooms. Participants could explore different scenarios or delve deeper into the activity.

Group Feedback and Discussion (45 minutes): Groups present their work from the breakout room activity to the larger group, followed by a guided discussion.

Expert Speaker/Panel Discussion (60 minutes): On select days, invite a guest speaker or host a panel discussion to delve deeper into the topic.

Reflection and Planning (30 minutes): Participants reflect on their learning and plan how to implement their insights in their work.

Wrap-up and Preview of Next Module (15 minutes): Conclude the session with a summary of key points and a preview of the next module.

This structure ensures an in-depth exploration of each topic while promoting participant engagement and practical application. It also includes breaks to help maintain energy and focus. Each module would last approximately 5.5 hours (excluding lunch), for a total of 11 hours per day. Over 7 days, this amounts to approximately 77 hours.

Module 1: Introduction to Children's Rights in Education (Revised)

Slide 1:
[Title: Welcome to the course!]
Doodle: Cartoon classroom with a welcome banner.
Narration: "Welcome to the training on Children's Rights in Education! This is the start of a transformative journey that will enrich your approach to teaching and supporting young learners."

Slide 2:
[Title: Course Overview]
Doodle: A roadmap with key milestones.
Narration: "Over the next seven days, we'll delve into a range of topics, from the importance of children's rights in education to building flexible and effective communication."

Slide 3:
[Title: Let's Get To Know Each Other]
Doodle: Diverse people icons in a circle.
Narration: "But first, let's get to know each other. Share your name, role, and one fun fact about yourself. This helps create a more interactive and engaging learning environment."

Slide 4:
[Title: Why are we here?]
Doodle: Question mark.
Narration: "Now let's consider why we're here. Let's brainstorm some ideas about the importance of children's rights in education."

Slide 5:
[Title: Introduction to the UNCRC]
Doodle: The UNCRC logo and related images.

Narration: "For the better part of our day, we will learn about the United Nations Convention on the Rights of the Child (UNCRC), its key principles, and its relevance to education."

Slide 6:
[Title: The Four Core Principles]
Doodle: Four puzzle pieces fitting together with each core principle written on them.
Narration: "The UNCRC is guided by four core principles - Non-Discrimination, Best Interest of the Child, Right to Life, Survival & Development, and Respect for the Views of the Child. Let's look at each one."

Slide 7-10:
[Title: Exploring each core principle]
Doodle: Individual slide for each principle with related images.
Narration: "As we explore each principle, think about how it applies to your current teaching practice."

Slide 11:
[Title: Reflection Time]
Doodle: A mirror with a thought bubble.
Narration: "Now, it's time to reflect. How do the UNCRC principles apply in your practice? What changes might you need to make?"

Slide 12:
[Title: Breakout Room Activity]
Doodle: Icons of people in different chat bubbles.
Narration: "In our breakout rooms, let's discuss specific scenarios where these principles might apply."

Slide 13:
[Title: Feedback and Close]
Doodle: A feedback form and a closing banner.
Narration: "To wrap up this module, we'll collect your thoughts and feedback. Thank you for your active participation! See you in our next module."

Module 2: Recognising and Addressing Affective Barriers (Revised)

Slide 1:
[Title: Welcome to Module 2]
Doodle: Cartoon classroom with a 'Module 2' banner.
Narration: "Welcome back to the second module of our training, 'Recognising and Addressing Affective Barriers'."

Slide 2:
[Title: Affective Barriers in Education]
Doodle: Student surrounded by various emotive icons (like fear, stress, sadness).

Narration: "Affective barriers in education refer to the emotional factors that prevent students from fully participating and succeeding in their education."

Slide 3:
[Title: The Impact of Affective Barriers]
Doodle: A domino effect illustration showing the progression of affective barriers.
Narration: "These barriers can lead to a domino effect, impacting students' academic performance, mental health, and overall well-being."

Slide 4:
[Title: Identifying Affective Barriers]
Doodle: Magnifying glass focusing on various emotive icons.
Narration: "Identifying these barriers is the first step towards addressing them. Let's discuss some common signs and symptoms."

Slide 5:
[Title: Addressing Affective Barriers]
Doodle: A toolkit with various tools like empathy, understanding, patience.
Narration: "Addressing these barriers involves a mix of strategies. The main tools in our toolkit are empathy, understanding, patience, and creating a safe learning environment."

Slide 6-9:
[Title: Exploring Each Tool]
Doodle: Individual slide for each tool with related images.
Narration: "As we explore each tool, think about how you can apply these in your own practice."

Slide 10:
[Title: Reflection Time]
Doodle: A mirror with a thought bubble.
Narration: "Time to reflect. How can these strategies help you better support your students? What challenges might you face?"

Slide 11:
[Title: Breakout Room Activity]
Doodle: Icons of people in different chat bubbles.
Narration: "In our breakout rooms, let's share our experiences and discuss potential solutions to these challenges."

Slide 12:
[Title: Feedback and Close]
Doodle: A feedback form and a closing banner.
Narration: "To wrap up this module, we'll collect your thoughts and feedback. Thank you for your engagement! Looking forward to seeing you in the next module."

Module 3: Promoting Emotional Well-being (Revised)

Slide 1:
[Title: Welcome to Module 3]
Doodle: Cartoon classroom with a 'Module 3' banner.
Narration: "Welcome back to the third module of our training, 'Promoting Emotional Well-being'."

Slide 2:
[Title: What is Emotional Well-being?]
Doodle: A heart with positive emotive icons like happiness, calm, excitement.
Narration: "Emotional well-being is an integral part of overall health. It's about how we think, feel, and behave."

Slide 3:
[Title: The Importance of Emotional Well-being in Education]
Doodle: A growing plant with emotive icons as its leaves.
Narration: "In education, emotional well-being plays a pivotal role in a student's learning journey. It impacts their learning, motivation, and academic success."

Slide 4:
[Title: Strategies to Promote Emotional Well-being]
Doodle: A hand planting seeds with labels: empathy, open dialogue, supportive environment.
Narration: "Promoting emotional well-being involves various strategies. Let's dive into these."

Slide 5-8:
[Title: Exploring Each Strategy]
Doodle: Individual slide for each strategy with related images.
Narration: "We will explore each strategy and how it can be applied in the classroom."

Slide 9:
[Title: Reflection Time]
Doodle: A mirror with a thought bubble.
Narration: "Time for reflection. How can you incorporate these strategies into your current practice?"

Slide 10:
[Title: Breakout Room Activity]
Doodle: Icons of people in different chat bubbles.
Narration: "In our breakout rooms, let's share experiences and brainstorm ideas for promoting emotional well-being in our classrooms."

Slide 11:
[Title: Feedback and Close]
Doodle: A feedback form and a closing banner.

Narration: "We'll end this module by collecting your thoughts and feedback. Your input is valuable in making this training better. See you in the next module!"

Module 4: Implementing Humanistic and Affective Approaches (Revised)

Slide 1:
[Title: Welcome to Module 4]
Doodle: Cartoon classroom with a 'Module 4' banner.
Narration: "Welcome back! This time, we are venturing into the territory of 'Implementing Humanistic and Affective Approaches'."

Slide 2:
[Title: What are Humanistic and Affective Approaches?]
Doodle: Icons representing empathy, self-actualization, and emotional intelligence.
Narration: "Let's first understand what humanistic and affective approaches are and how they influence teaching and learning."

Slide 3:
[Title: The Significance in Education]
Doodle: Two intersecting circles showing the merging of humanistic and affective approaches.
Narration: "The fusion of humanistic and affective approaches can truly transform the classroom atmosphere. Let's delve into their significance."

Slide 4:
[Title: Strategies for Implementation]
Doodle: A toolbox with tools labelled with various strategies.
Narration: "We have some effective strategies for implementing these approaches. Let's see what's in our toolkit!"

Slide 5-8:
[Title: Exploring Each Strategy]
Doodle: Individual slide for each strategy with related images.
Narration: "We will explore each strategy and how it can be used effectively in the classroom."

Slide 9:
[Title: Reflection Time]
Doodle: A mirror with a thought bubble.
Narration: "Reflection Time! How can you embed these approaches into your teaching practice?"

Slide 10:
[Title: Breakout Room Activity]
Doodle: Icons of people in different chat bubbles.

Narration: "In our breakout rooms, let's share experiences and brainstorm ways to incorporate humanistic and affective approaches in our classrooms."

Slide 11:
[Title: Feedback and Close]
Doodle: A feedback form and a closing banner.
Narration: "Before we say goodbye, we'd love to hear your thoughts and feedback. Your insights are valuable in shaping our training. Till next time!"

Module 5: Understanding and Using Tomkins' Affect Script.

Slide 1:
[Title: Welcome to Module 5]
Doodle: Cartoon classroom with a 'Module 5' banner.
Narration: "Welcome to Module 5. Today we'll delve into the fascinating world of Tomkins' Affect Script."

Slide 2:
[Title: Who is Silvan Tomkins?]
Doodle: A picture of Silvan Tomkins with some highlights of his work.
Narration: "Who was Silvan Tomkins and what led him to develop the Affect Script theory? Let's find out."

Slide 3:
[Title: Understanding Affect Script]
Doodle: Different facial expressions corresponding to different affects.
Narration: "Tomkins identified nine affects that form the basis of all our emotions."

Slide 4-12:
[Title: Exploring the Nine Affects (Slides for each affect)]
Doodle: Depictions of each affect as explained by Tomkins (Interest-Excitement, Enjoyment-Joy, Surprise-Startle, Anger-Rage, Disgust, Dissmell, Distress-Anguish, Fear-Terror, Shame-Humiliation).
Narration: Detailed description and understanding of each affect, their triggers, and manifestations.

Slide 13:
[Title: Role of Affect Script in Education]
Doodle: A doodle showing the interaction of teacher and students and their emotional responses.
Narration: "What is the significance of Affect Script in an educational setting? Let's dig deeper."

Slide 14:
[Title: Case Studies]

Doodle: A magnifying glass over a case file.
Narration: "Through a series of case studies, we'll see how Affect Script plays out in real-life educational scenarios."

Slide 15:
[Title: Reflection Time]
Doodle: A mirror with a thought bubble.
Narration: "Reflection Time! How have you observed these affect scripts in your classrooms?"

Slide 16:
[Title: Breakout Room Activity]
Doodle: Icons of people in different chat bubbles.
Narration: "In our breakout rooms, let's share experiences and discuss how understanding Affect Script can improve our classroom interactions."

Slide 17:
[Title: Feedback and Close]
Doodle: A feedback form and a closing banner.
Narration: "Before we wrap up for the day, let's hear your thoughts and feedback. Your insights help us make this training better. See you in the next module!"

Module 6: Applying Nathanson's Compass of Shame.

Slide 1:
[Title: Welcome to Module 6]
Doodle: Cartoon classroom with a 'Module 6' banner.
Narration: "Welcome to Module 6. Today, we will dive into Nathanson's Compass of Shame and understand its application."

Slide 2:
[Title: Understanding Nathanson's Compass of Shame]
Doodle: A doodle illustrating the Compass of Shame with its four quadrants: Withdrawal, Attack Self, Avoidance, and Attack Other.
Narration: "Nathanson's Compass of Shame describes four ways that people often react to shame. Let's explore them."

Slide 3-6:
[Title: Exploring Nathanson's Compass Quadrants (Slides for each quadrant)]
Doodle: Depictions of each quadrant as explained by Nathanson.
Narration: Detailed description and understanding of each quadrant, their triggers, and manifestations.

Slide 7:
[Title: Role of Compass of Shame in Education]

Doodle: A doodle showing the interaction of teacher and students and their reactions to shame.
Narration: "How does Nathanson’s Compass of Shame play a significant role in an educational setting? Let's dig deeper."

Slide 8:
[Title: Case Studies]
Doodle: A magnifying glass over a case file.
Narration: "Through a series of case studies, we'll see how the Compass of Shame plays out in real-life educational scenarios."

Slide 9:
[Title: Reflection Time]
Doodle: A mirror with a thought bubble.
Narration: "Reflection Time! Can you identify instances where you have observed the compass of shame in your classrooms?"

Slide 10:
[Title: Breakout Room Activity]
Doodle: Icons of people in different chat bubbles.
Narration: "In our breakout rooms, let's share experiences and discuss how understanding Nathanson’s Compass of Shame can improve our classroom interactions."

Slide 11:
[Title: Feedback and Close]
Doodle: A feedback form and a closing banner.
Narration: "Before we wrap up for the day, let's hear your thoughts and feedback. Your insights help us make this training better. See you in the next module!"

This module aims to help educators understand Nathanson's Compass of Shame and its implications in an educational setting. Through case studies and discussions, educators can learn to identify and address reactions to shame, leading to better classroom dynamics and student wellbeing. Please review and let me know your thoughts.

Module 7: Creating Safe Spaces for Vulnerability.

Slide 1:
[Title: Welcome to Module 7]
Doodle: Cartoon classroom with a 'Module 7' banner.
Narration: "Welcome to Module 7. Today, we are focusing on creating safe spaces for vulnerability."

Slide 2:
[Title: Importance of Safe Spaces]
Doodle: A doodle of a safe, comfortable classroom environment.

Narration: "What is the importance of creating a safe space in classrooms? How does it benefit students?"

Slide 3:
[Title: Factors Contributing to Safe Spaces]
Doodle: Several icons representing trust, respect, openness, and acceptance.
Narration: "There are several key factors that contribute to creating safe spaces. Let's understand them in detail."

Slide 4:
[Title: Reflection Time]
Doodle: A mirror with a thought bubble.
Narration: "Reflection Time! Think about the environments where you felt safe and vulnerable. What made these spaces feel safe?"

Slide 5:
[Title: Strategies for Creating Safe Spaces]
Doodle: A toolbox with various tools (icons representing various strategies).
Narration: "Now, let's explore various strategies that can help us create these safe spaces in our classrooms."

Slide 6:
[Title: Role Play Activity]
Doodle: Masks for drama/role-play.
Narration: "We are going to engage in a role-play activity. You'll be given a scenario where you'll need to create a safe space for a hypothetical student."

Slide 7:
[Title: Breakout Room Discussion]
Doodle: Icons of people in different chat bubbles.
Narration: "In our breakout rooms, let's share our experiences from the role-play activity. What worked? What could be improved?"

Slide 8:
[Title: Overcoming Challenges]
Doodle: A doodle showing a hurdle and an educator leaping over it.
Narration: "Creating safe spaces can be challenging. Let's discuss common challenges and how we can overcome them."

Slide 9:
[Title: Feedback and Close]
Doodle: A feedback form and a closing banner.
Narration: "Before we close today's session, please share your thoughts and feedback. Your insights help us make this training better. See you in the next module!"

In this module, the participants learn about the importance of safe spaces and strategies to create them. Through reflective exercises and role-play activities, they gain practical insights into ensuring safety and vulnerability in classrooms. Please review and let me know your thoughts.

Module 8: Enhancing Communication and Empathy.

Slide 1:
[Title: Welcome to Module 8]
Doodle: Cartoon classroom with a 'Module 8' banner.
Narration: "Welcome to Module 8. Today, we will be delving into enhancing communication and empathy."

Slide 2:
[Title: Why Empathy Matters]
Doodle: Two people sitting, one comforting the other.
Narration: "Why is empathy important in a school setting? What impact does it have on students' learning and emotional well-being?"

Slide 3:
[Title: Understanding Communication]
Doodle: Icons symbolizing different forms of communication (verbal, non-verbal, written).
Narration: "Communication is more than just words. It involves verbal, non-verbal, and written forms. Let's understand how we can enhance these."

Slide 4:
[Title: Activity: Empathy Walk]
Doodle: Footprints indicating a path.
Narration: "Activity time! Let's engage in an 'Empathy Walk' exercise. This activity is designed to help us understand the experiences of others."

Slide 5:
[Title: Breakout Room Discussion]
Doodle: Icons of people in different chat bubbles.
Narration: "In our breakout rooms, let's share our experiences from the Empathy Walk. How did it feel to step into someone else's shoes?"

Slide 6:
[Title: Building Empathic Communication]
Doodle: Two speech bubbles with a heart in between.
Narration: "Building empathic communication is a skill. Let's delve into strategies and approaches that can help enhance our communication."

Slide 7:
[Title: Role-Playing Activity]
Doodle: Masks for drama/role-play.
Narration: "It's time for a role-playing activity! Here, we'll practice empathic communication in various scenarios."

Slide 8:
[Title: Feedback and Discussion]
Doodle: A feedback form and a discussion icon.
Narration: "Share your experiences from the role-playing activity. What did you learn? How can you implement these strategies in your classroom?"

Slide 9:
[Title: Closing the Session]
Doodle: A closing banner.
Narration: "That brings us to the end of Module 8. Please take a moment to share your feedback and thoughts. See you in the next module!"

In this module, the participants explore the significance of empathy and communication in an educational context. Through various activities and role-play exercises, they practice and learn how to enhance their empathic communication skills. Let me know your thoughts and if we can move to the next module.

Module 9: Tailoring Approaches for Neurodiverse Students.

Slide 1:
[Title: Welcome to Module 9]
Doodle: A doodle of a classroom scene with a 'Module 9' banner.
Narration: "Welcome to Module 9, where we'll explore tailoring approaches for neurodiverse students."

Slide 2:
[Title: Understanding Neurodiversity]
Doodle: Diverse human brain representations.
Narration: "Neurodiversity acknowledges and respects the differences in each person's brain function. It's all about embracing variety and individuality."

Slide 3:
[Title: Neurodiversity in Classroom]
Doodle: An inclusive classroom scene.
Narration: "How does neurodiversity look in a classroom? And why should we consider it when teaching? Let's delve deeper."

Slide 4:
[Title: Teaching Strategies for Neurodiverse Students]
Doodle: Different teaching tools and methods.
Narration: "Different students require different approaches. We'll explore various teaching strategies that cater to the needs of neurodiverse students."

Slide 5:
[Title: Activity: Tailoring Lesson Plans]

Doodle: A lesson plan and a tailor's measure tape.
Narration: "Activity time! Let's try to tailor a lesson plan considering the needs of neurodiverse students in your classrooms."

Slide 6:
[Title: Breakout Room Discussion]
Doodle: Icons of people in separate chat bubbles.
Narration: "Time to share your lesson plans in the breakout rooms. How did you accommodate the needs of different learners?"

Slide 7:
[Title: Best Practices & Resources]
Doodle: A book with a checklist and a web resource symbol.
Narration: "Let's talk about some best practices and resources for supporting neurodiverse students."

Slide 8:
[Title: Feedback and Reflection]
Doodle: A feedback form and a thinking icon.
Narration: "Let's reflect on what we've learned today. Please take a moment to provide your feedback and thoughts."

Slide 9:
[Title: Closing the Session]
Doodle: A closing banner.
Narration: "This concludes Module 9. Remember, every student is unique and deserves an education that caters to their needs. See you in the next module!"

This module focuses on understanding and embracing neurodiversity in the classroom and discusses various strategies for teaching neurodiverse students. Let me know your thoughts, and if we can proceed to the next module.

Module 10: Fostering Effective Home-School Communication.

Slide 1:
[Title: Welcome to Module 10]
Doodle: A doodle of a school building and a home with a 'Module 10' banner connecting them.
Narration: "Welcome to Module 10, where we explore the vital aspect of fostering effective home-school communication."

Slide 2:
[Title: The Importance of Home-School Communication]
Doodle: Two speech bubbles, one with a family doodle and another with a school doodle.

Narration: "Effective communication between home and school is crucial for a child's education. Let's explore why."

Slide 3:
[Title: Barriers to Home-School Communication]
Doodle: A wall made of bricks, each labelled with a different barrier (language, time, cultural differences, etc.).
Narration: "However, several barriers may hinder effective communication. Let's identify these barriers and ways to overcome them."

Slide 4:
[Title: Strategies for Effective Communication]
Doodle: Different communication tools such as emails, messages, meetings, and so on.
Narration: "We'll now look at strategies to foster effective home-school communication and build strong partnerships."

Slide 5:
[Title: Activity: Developing a Communication Plan]
Doodle: A blueprint paper with a pencil and ruler.
Narration: "It's activity time! Let's try to develop a communication plan keeping in mind the barriers and strategies we've discussed."

Slide 6:
[Title: Breakout Room Discussion]
Doodle: Icons of people in separate chat bubbles.
Narration: "Now, share your communication plans in the breakout rooms. How did you address potential barriers?"

Slide 7:
[Title: Reflecting on the Experience]
Doodle: A mirror reflecting the 'Communication Plan' blueprint.
Narration: "Reflecting on our experiences helps in refining our plans. Let's talk about what we learned from this exercise."

Slide 8:
[Title: Feedback and Closing]
Doodle: A feedback form and a closing banner.
Narration: "Before we close this session, please provide your valuable feedback. Remember, fostering home-school communication is key to every student's success."

This module discusses the importance of fostering effective home-school communication, highlights the barriers, and presents strategies to overcome them. It also includes an activity for developing a communication plan. Let me know your thoughts, and if we can proceed to the next module.

Module 11: Prioritising Early Intervention and Support.

Slide 1:
[Title: Welcome to Module 11]
Doodle: A doodle of a first aid kit with 'Module 11' on the front.
Narration: "Welcome to Module 11, where we focus on the importance of prioritising early intervention and support in education."

Slide 2:
[Title: The Importance of Early Intervention]
Doodle: A doodle of a seedling with a hand supporting it.
Narration: "Early intervention is key in supporting a child's education. But why is it so important? Let's explore."

Slide 3:
[Title: Identifying the Need for Early Intervention]
Doodle: A magnifying glass over a list of various potential issues (learning difficulties, behavioural issues, etc.).
Narration: "Identifying when and where early intervention is needed is crucial. Let's learn some of the signs to watch out for."

Slide 4:
[Title: Effective Strategies for Early Intervention]
Doodle: Various tools labelled with different strategies for early intervention.
Narration: "There are numerous effective strategies for early intervention. Let's delve into some of them."

Slide 5:
[Title: Activity: Creating an Early Intervention Plan]
Doodle: A blueprint paper with a pencil and ruler.
Narration: "For our activity, we'll be creating our own early intervention plans. Let's start!"

Slide 6:
[Title: Breakout Room Discussion]
Doodle: Icons of people in separate chat bubbles.
Narration: "Now, share your early intervention plans in the breakout rooms. What strategies did you find most helpful?"

Slide 7:
[Title: Reflecting on the Experience]
Doodle: A mirror reflecting the 'Early Intervention Plan' blueprint.
Narration: "Let's reflect on our experiences and discuss what we learned from this exercise."

Slide 8:
[Title: Feedback and Closing]
Doodle: A feedback form and a closing banner.

Narration: "Before we close, please provide your feedback. Remember, early intervention is a vital tool in supporting every student's education."

This module dives into the importance of early intervention, how to identify the need for it, and the effective strategies that can be applied. The session includes an activity where participants can create their own early intervention plans. What are your thoughts on this, and can we proceed to the next module?

Module 12: Building Flexibility into Curriculum and Instruction.

Slide 1:
[Title: Welcome to Module 12]
Doodle: An image of a book titled 'Module 12' bending like a flexible ruler.
Narration: "Welcome to Module 12, where we'll explore how to build flexibility into the curriculum and instruction."

Slide 2:
[Title: The Need for Flexibility]
Doodle: A doodle of a traditional, rigid ruler next to a bendable ruler.
Narration: "Why is flexibility crucial in education? Let's explore the reasons."

Slide 3:
[Title: Flexibility in Curriculum]
Doodle: A variety of book covers (representing various subjects), with some appearing to bend or twist.
Narration: "What does flexibility look like in a curriculum context? We'll take a look at some examples."

Slide 4:
[Title: Flexibility in Instruction]
Doodle: A teacher bending towards a student, highlighting a flexible approach.
Narration: "Flexibility isn't just for curriculum. It's also vital in instruction. Let's explore this further."

Slide 5:
[Title: Activity: Designing a Flexible Lesson Plan]
Doodle: A blueprint paper with a pencil and ruler, highlighting elements of a lesson plan.
Narration: "Now, we'll try to design a flexible lesson plan. Let's get started!"

Slide 6:
[Title: Breakout Room Discussion]
Doodle: Icons of people in separate chat bubbles.
Narration: "Share your flexible lesson plans in the breakout rooms. What techniques did you use?"

Slide 7:
[Title: Reflecting on the Experience]
Doodle: A mirror reflecting the 'Flexible Lesson Plan'.
Narration: "Let's reflect on our experiences and discuss what we learned from this exercise."

Slide 8:
[Title: Feedback and Closing]
Doodle: A feedback form and a closing banner.
Narration: "Before we close, please provide your feedback. Always remember the value of flexibility in curriculum and instruction."

This module looks at the importance of flexibility in both the curriculum and instruction, providing practical examples and an activity for the participants to design a flexible lesson plan. Do you have any comments or suggestions, or can we move to the final wrap-up module?

final wrap-up module and reflective practices.

Slide 1:
[Title: Welcome to the Final Session]
Doodle: A doodle of a finish line with a banner reading "The Final Session".
Narration: "Welcome to our final session together! Let's look back on our journey and reflect on our experiences."

Slide 2:
[Title: Recap of the Training]
Doodle: A winding road with signposts marking each module's title.
Narration: "We've covered a lot of ground in the past seven days. Let's take a moment to recap."

Slide 3:
[Title: Reflection Time]
Doodle: A mirror with various module themes reflected in it.
Narration: "Reflection time! Think about the most significant things you've learned, changes you've noticed, or insights you've gained."

Slide 4:
[Title: Group Sharing]
Doodle: Icons of people in a circle, each with a speech bubble.
Narration: "Now let's share our reflections in a group discussion. This is a safe space to share your thoughts and feelings."

Slide 5:
[Title: What's Next?]
Doodle: A doodle of an open door leading to a bright light.

Narration: "What's next? How do you plan to apply what you've learned in your professional life?"

Slide 6:
[Title: Final Activity: Commitment Cards]
Doodle: Images of cards with written commitments.
Narration: "Let's commit to action! Write down one or two things you'll start doing as a result of this training."

Slide 7:
[Title: Final Feedback and Farewell]
Doodle: A feedback form and a farewell banner.
Narration: "Please share your final feedback about the training. It's been an enriching journey, and we're grateful for your active participation. Farewell!"

This final session provides a space for participants to recap their learning, reflect on their experiences, share these reflections, and plan how they will apply their learning in the future. An activity is included for participants to commit to an action step as a result of the training. Feedback is again requested at the end of the session. Let me know your thoughts or if there's anything else you would like to add or change.

Opening speech and resources for each module

Opening speech for each module

Module 1 - Introduction to Children's Rights in Education
Opening speech: "Welcome to our first session, an introduction to children's rights in education. Throughout this module, we'll explore the fundamental rights of children in educational settings and why they matter. You'll gain a better understanding of why we should prioritize these rights in our teaching and learning. Now, let's delve into our interactive doodle video."

Resources: PDF with key points about the UNCRC, a worksheet for reflections about their own practice concerning children's rights, links to relevant articles and resources about children's rights in education.

Module 2 - Recognising and Addressing Affective Barriers
Opening speech: "In our second module, we're diving deep into the world of affective barriers. These emotional roadblocks can seriously impact a student's ability to learn and engage in the classroom. Today, we'll identify these barriers and discuss ways to address them effectively."

Resources: Case studies demonstrating different affective barriers in a classroom setting, reflection worksheet on personal experiences with affective barriers and strategies used to address them.

The opening speeches and resources for the remaining modules will follow a similar structure, setting up the context for the module, what participants can expect from it, and then providing them with additional resources for further exploration or reflection.

Module 3 - Promoting Emotional Well-being
Opening speech: "In our third module, we'll be focusing on emotional well-being, a cornerstone of a productive learning environment. We will explore ways to promote emotional well-being among students, helping them navigate the emotional landscape of learning and personal growth."

Resources: Activity sheets for emotional regulation strategies, list of resources (books, articles, websites) about emotional well-being in children, a reflection guide for creating a classroom plan focused on emotional well-being.

Module 4 - Implementing Humanistic and Affective Approaches
Opening speech: "Welcome to our fourth module. Here, we'll delve into humanistic and affective approaches in teaching, which focus on the emotional and psychological aspects of learning. You will learn how these approaches can make your classroom a more engaging and empathetic place."

Resources: Videos and articles explaining the fundamentals of humanistic and affective teaching, worksheets for creating an action plan to implement these approaches, reflection journal prompts for self-assessment.

Module 5 - Understanding and Using Tomkins' Affect Script
Opening speech: "In this fifth module, we will introduce you to Tomkins' Affect Script, a powerful tool for understanding our emotions and responses. By understanding these scripts, we can better manage our own emotions and help our students do the same."

Resources: Infographics detailing Tomkins' Affect Script, interactive activities to practice identifying and utilizing affect scripts, self-reflection prompts for analyzing personal affect scripts.

Module 6 - Applying Nathanson's Compass of Shame
Opening speech: "In our sixth module, we will explore Nathanson's Compass of Shame, a framework for understanding responses to shame. Recognizing these patterns can help us foster a more compassionate and understanding learning environment."

Resources: Diagrams and explanations of Nathanson's Compass of Shame, reflection worksheets to identify responses to shame, group discussion prompts for exploring the impact of shame in a learning environment.

Module 3 - Promoting Emotional Well-being
Opening speech: "In our third module, we'll be focusing on emotional well-being, a cornerstone of a productive learning environment. We will explore ways to promote emotional well-being among students, helping them navigate the emotional landscape of learning and personal growth."

Resources: Activity sheets for emotional regulation strategies, list of resources (books, articles, websites) about emotional well-being in children, a reflection guide for creating a classroom plan focused on emotional well-being.

Module 4 - Implementing Humanistic and Affective Approaches
Opening speech: "Welcome to our fourth module. Here, we'll delve into humanistic and affective approaches in teaching, which focus on the emotional and psychological aspects of learning. You will learn how these approaches can make your classroom a more engaging and empathetic place."

Resources: Videos and articles explaining the fundamentals of humanistic and affective teaching, worksheets for creating an action plan to implement these approaches, reflection journal prompts for self-assessment.

Module 5 - Understanding and Using Tomkins' Affect Script
Opening speech: "In this fifth module, we will introduce you to Tomkins' Affect Script, a powerful tool for understanding our emotions and responses. By understanding these scripts, we can better manage our own emotions and help our students do the same."

Resources: Infographics detailing Tomkins' Affect Script, interactive activities to practice identifying and utilizing affect scripts, self-reflection prompts for analyzing personal affect scripts.

Module 6 - Applying Nathanson's Compass of Shame
Opening speech: "In our sixth module, we will explore Nathanson's Compass of Shame, a framework for understanding responses to shame. Recognizing these patterns can help us foster a more compassionate and understanding learning environment."

Resources: Diagrams and explanations of Nathanson's Compass of Shame, reflection worksheets to identify responses to shame, group discussion prompts for exploring the impact of shame in a learning environment.

Module 7 - Creating Safe Spaces for Vulnerability
Opening speech: "Welcome to Module 7. Here, we'll delve into the process of creating safe spaces for vulnerability within our classrooms. In fostering such environments, we can encourage open communication, emotional resilience, and personal growth amongst our students."

Resources: Practical guides on creating a safe and inclusive classroom environment, group activities focusing on empathy and active listening, self-reflection sheets on personal responses to vulnerability.

Module 8 - Enhancing Communication and Empathy
Opening speech: "As we move onto Module 8, we'll concentrate on enhancing communication and empathy. These are key skills that can significantly improve the relationships we form with our students, helping us understand and cater to their diverse needs."

Resources: Role-play activities to enhance empathetic communication, educational videos on active listening and emotional intelligence, worksheets for developing an empathy-focused communication plan.

Module 9 - Tailoring Approaches for Neurodiverse Students
Opening speech: "Welcome to our ninth module, where we'll discuss tailoring approaches for our neurodiverse students. Here, we'll learn strategies to ensure that our teaching methodologies are inclusive and effectively cater to each individual's unique learning style."

Resources: Resources list including books, articles, websites on neurodiversity in education, activity sheets for understanding different learning styles, reflection journal prompts on fostering inclusivity.

Module 10 - Fostering Effective Home-School Communication
Opening speech: "In Module 10, we'll examine how to foster effective home-school communication. Creating strong ties between educators and parents can contribute greatly to the academic and emotional success of our students."

Resources: Templates for parent-teacher communication, role-play scenarios for handling difficult conversations, strategies for maintaining consistent and constructive communication.

Module 11 - Prioritising Early Intervention and Support
Opening speech: "In our eleventh module, we'll discuss the importance of prioritising early intervention and support. By identifying and addressing challenges early, we can create a supportive learning environment that nurtures every child's potential."

Resources: Checklists for identifying signs of learning and emotional difficulties, intervention planning templates, case studies on successful early interventions, guidebooks on support strategies.

Module 12 - Building Flexibility into Curriculum and Instruction
Opening speech: "Welcome to our final module, Module 12, where we'll learn about building flexibility into our curriculum and instruction. By incorporating flexible teaching strategies, we can better accommodate the diverse learning needs and styles of our students."

Resources: Strategies and techniques for flexible instruction, guidebooks on designing a flexible curriculum, hands-on activities to experiment with flexible teaching approaches.

Final Wrap-up and Reflective Practices
Opening speech: "As we conclude our training, let's spend our final session together reflecting on our journey and the insights we've gained. It's crucial to continually evaluate and adjust our practices to provide the best possible education for our students."

Resources: Reflective practice worksheets, feedback forms for self and peer evaluation, guides for creating a personal development plan based on the training insights.

As we wrap up, I want to take a moment to thank you all for your dedication and engagement throughout this training. Your passion for improving our educational practices is inspiring. I'm confident that the tools and strategies we've explored over these sessions will greatly benefit your work with students.

Resource list

1. Module 1: Resources: PDF with key points about the UNCRC, a worksheet for reflections about their own practice concerning children's rights, links to relevant articles and resources about children's rights in education.
2. Module 2: Resources: Case studies demonstrating different affective barriers in a classroom setting, reflection worksheet on personal experiences with affective barriers and strategies used to address them.
3. Module 3: Resources: Activity sheets for emotional regulation strategies, list of resources (books, articles, websites) about emotional well-being in children, a reflection guide for creating a classroom plan focused on emotional well-being.
4. Module 4: Resources: Videos and articles explaining the fundamentals of humanistic and affective teaching, worksheets for creating an action plan to implement these approaches, reflection journal prompts for self-assessment.
5. Module 5: Resources: Infographics detailing Tomkins' Affect Script, interactive activities to practice identifying and utilizing affect scripts, self-reflection prompts for analyzing personal affect scripts.
6. Module 6: Diagrams and explanations of Nathanson's Compass of Shame, reflection worksheets to identify responses to shame, group discussion prompts for exploring the impact of shame in a learning environment.
7. Module 7: Resources: Practical guides on creating a safe and inclusive classroom environment, group activities focusing on empathy and active listening, self-reflection sheets on personal responses to vulnerability.
8. Module 8: Resources: Role-play activities to enhance empathetic communication, educational videos on active listening and emotional intelligence, worksheets for developing an empathy-focused communication plan.
9. Module 9: Resources: Resources list including books, articles, websites on neurodiversity in education, activity sheets for understanding different learning styles, reflection journal prompts on fostering inclusivity.

10. Module 10: Resources: Templates for parent-teacher communication, role-play scenarios for handling difficult conversations, strategies for maintaining consistent and constructive communication.
11. Module 11: Resources: Checklists for identifying signs of learning and emotional difficulties, intervention planning templates, case studies on successful early interventions, guidebooks on support strategies.
12. Resources: Strategies and techniques for flexible instruction, guidebooks on designing a flexible curriculum, hands-on activities to experiment with flexible teaching approaches.
13. Final wrap up session resources: Resources: Reflective practice worksheets, feedback forms for self and peer evaluation, guides for creating a personal development plan based on the training insights.

Recap of Training Pilot in doodle format/ Introduction

Module 1: Introduction to Children's Rights in Education

Slide 1: "Welcome to Module 1, 'Introduction to Children's Rights in Education'. Here, we'll explore how the core principles of the United Nations Convention on the Rights of the Child are integrated into education."
Slide 2: "The UNCRC is a landmark international agreement that acknowledges the fundamental human rights of all children. These rights cover all aspects of a child's life and set out the civil, political, economic, social, and cultural rights that all children everywhere are entitled to."
Slide 3: "To start off, we'll engage in an interactive quiz to familiarize ourselves with these rights and their importance."
Slide 4: "We'll then move on to breakout group discussions, where we'll delve deeper into how these rights can be integrated into our educational practices."
Module 2: Recognising and Addressing Affective Barriers

Slide 1: "Welcome to Module 2, 'Recognising and Addressing Affective Barriers'. In this module, we'll learn to identify and overcome emotional barriers in learning."
Slide 2: "Affective barriers can significantly impact a child's learning experience. We'll explore practical case studies that highlight these barriers and discuss strategies to overcome them."
Slide 3: "In our group activity, we'll design an action plan to address these affective barriers. This hands-on exercise will provide practical strategies to promote a conducive learning environment."
Module 3: Promoting Emotional Well-being

Slide 1: "Welcome to Module 3, 'Promoting Emotional Well-being'. A child's emotional well-being is fundamental to their learning and development."
Slide 2: "We'll discuss why emotional well-being is important for learning and explore practical strategies to promote it in the classroom."

Slide 3: "Our hands-on activity will involve creating an emotional well-being action plan. This will provide practical insights into promoting emotional wellness in our classrooms."
Module 4: Implementing Humanistic and Affective Approaches

Slide 1: "Welcome to Module 4, 'Implementing Humanistic and Affective Approaches'. In this module, we will explore how we can implement a more humanistic approach in our teaching."
Slide 2: "The humanistic approach values the whole child, focusing on self-directed learning and the role of affective factors in the learning process."
Slide 3: "Our activity for this module involves a role-play scenario. This will provide a practical platform for implementing the humanistic and affective approaches we discuss."

Module 5: Understanding and Using Tomkins' Affect Script

Slide 1: "Welcome to Module 5, 'Understanding and Using Tomkins' Affect Script'. In this module, we're going to dive into a groundbreaking theory that provides valuable insights into our emotional experiences."
Slide 2: "Psychologist Silvan Tomkins proposed the Affect Theory, suggesting that our emotions are primary motivators of our actions. The theory identifies nine affects that are the basis of all our emotions."
Slide 3: "Now, it's time for us to put theory into practice. Let's engage in an interactive group task where we will apply these concepts to real-world scenarios. By the end of this module, you will gain a practical understanding of how affect scripts can be seen in a classroom setting."
Module 6: Applying Nathanson's Compass of Shame

Slide 1: "Welcome to Module 6, 'Applying Nathanson's Compass of Shame'. This tool will help us identify and understand how students react to shame and how these reactions can affect their learning."
Slide 2: "We're going to explore the four primary shame responses: withdrawal, avoidance, attacking self, and attacking others. Each of these reactions serves as a coping mechanism for dealing with feelings of shame."
Slide 3: "To translate this understanding into practice, we're going to engage in a hands-on activity. We will be developing a classroom management plan based on Nathanson's Compass of Shame. This will provide strategies to constructively manage and respond to these different reactions."
Module 7: Creating Safe Spaces for Vulnerability

Slide 1: "Welcome to Module 7, 'Creating Safe Spaces for Vulnerability'. The key to effective learning is providing an environment where students feel safe to express themselves."
Slide 2: "In this module, we'll explore strategies and approaches to create an inclusive learning environment that supports students' emotional vulnerability."
Slide 3: "For our interactive activity, you will get to design a 'safe space' in your own classroom, allowing you to directly apply the concepts we discuss here today."
Module 8: Enhancing Communication and Empathy

Slide 1: "Welcome to Module 8, 'Enhancing Communication and Empathy'. Effective communication is a cornerstone of a well-functioning classroom, and empathy is the key to establishing strong connections with students."
Slide 2: "We'll explore strategies for empathetic communication, allowing you to connect with students on a deeper level and better understand their needs."
Slide 3: "For today's activity, we have an interactive empathy-building exercise. By taking part in this exercise, you'll gain practical skills to enhance empathy in your classroom interactions."
Module 9: Tailoring Approaches for Neurodiverse Students

Slide 1: "Welcome to Module 9, 'Tailoring Approaches for Neurodiverse Students'. Every student is unique, and it's crucial that our teaching approaches reflect that diversity."
Slide 2: "We will dive into the concept of neurodiversity, exploring different neurodiverse conditions and discussing strategies to tailor our teaching approaches for these students."
Slide 3: "In our hands-on case study analysis activity, we will apply these strategies to real-life scenarios, enabling you to better support neurodiverse students in your classrooms."
Module 10: Fostering Effective Home-School Communication

Slide 1: "Welcome to Module 10, 'Fostering Effective Home-School Communication'. Home-school communication plays a vital role in promoting a conducive learning environment for students."
Slide 2: "This module will introduce strategies to enhance communication between home and school, fostering a supportive learning ecosystem for students."
Slide 3: "For today's activity, we have an interactive role-play exercise. This will provide you with a practical platform to apply the strategies we discuss and resolve hypothetical communication challenges."
Module 11: Prioritising Early Intervention and Support

Slide 1: "Welcome to Module 11, 'Prioritising Early Intervention and Support'. Early detection of learning and emotional challenges in students is key to providing effective support."
Slide 2: "We will explore practical strategies to identify early signs of potential challenges and discuss effective intervention approaches."
Slide 3: "As part of our hands-on activity today, you will get to design an early intervention plan, directly applying the strategies we discuss in this module."
Module 12: Building Flexibility into Curriculum and Instruction

Slide 1: "Welcome to our final module, Module 12, 'Building Flexibility into Curriculum and Instruction'. Flexibility in teaching is key to accommodating diverse student needs and promoting effective learning."
Slide 2: "In this module, we will delve into various flexible teaching strategies that can be applied in your classrooms."
Slide 3: "To wrap up our training, you will engage in a hands-on activity where you get to experiment with these strategies. This will provide you with practical skills to enhance flexibility in your teaching approach."

This script is meant for narration and should work well with images, videos, and diagrams you'd like to include in your presentation.

IMAGE LIST FOR EACH MODULE SLIDE

Module 1: Introduction to Children's Rights in Education

Slide 1: Image of a welcome board with the title of the module.
Slide 2: Display the UNCRC logo or an image representing children of various nationalities around a globe.
Slide 3: Image of a quiz board or question marks to represent the interactive quiz.
Slide 4: Image of small group of people (to represent breakout groups) with speech bubbles to depict discussion.
Module 2: Recognising and Addressing Affective Barriers

Slide 1: Image of the title of the module with a symbolic barrier or wall.
Slide 2: Use an image of a case file or magnifying glass to represent investigation into case studies.
Slide 3: Show a group of people brainstorming around a table or a blueprint to represent planning.
Module 3: Promoting Emotional Well-being

Slide 1: Image of the module's title with a heart or a happy child to symbolize emotional well-being.
Slide 2: Use a picture of a brain with a heart to represent the importance of emotional well-being in learning.
Slide 3: Show an image or clipart of a plan or strategy map to represent the creation of an emotional well-being action plan.
Module 4: Implementing Humanistic and Affective Approaches

Slide 1: Use an image depicting humanistic elements, like a human head with gears inside it or a person surrounded by nature.
Slide 2: Picture of a person climbing a ladder or a child at the helm of a ship to represent self-directed learning.
Slide 3: Show an image of a stage or theatre masks to symbolize role-play.

Module 5: Understanding and Using Tomkins' Affect Script

Slide 1: Show a picture of Silvan Tomkins or a symbolic image of his theory, such as a human head filled with various symbols of emotions.
Slide 2: Picture of a group of people around a table, brainstorming or discussing, signifying group task.
Slide 3: Display images related to school or classroom settings, to represent real-world scenarios application.
Module 6: Applying Nathanson's Compass of Shame

Slide 1: Use an image of a compass or a representation of Nathanson's Compass of Shame.

Slide 2: Picture of a classroom or various student activities to show classroom interactions.
Slide 3: Show a plan or a blueprint to represent the development of a classroom management plan.
Module 7: Creating Safe Spaces for Vulnerability

Slide 1: Picture of a welcoming classroom or a child in a safe bubble to represent safe spaces.
Slide 2: Use images of various inclusive symbols or a rainbow to represent inclusivity.
Slide 3: Show a sketch or a plan to symbolize the designing of a safe space.
Module 8: Enhancing Communication and Empathy

Slide 1: Image of two or more figures communicating, with speech bubbles or interconnected symbols.
Slide 2: Picture of a heart or hands reaching out to each other to represent empathy.
Slide 3: Display an image representing a classroom or a group activity to represent the empathy-building exercise.
Module 9: Tailoring Approaches for Neurodiverse Students

Slide 1: Show a diverse set of brain symbols or a group of different looking children to represent neurodiversity.
Slide 2: Picture of a compass or navigation symbols to represent tailoring educational approaches.
Slide 3: Use an image of a case study or magnifying glass to represent case study analysis activity.
Module 10: Fostering Effective Home-School Communication

Slide 1: Use symbols of home and school with a communication icon in between.
Slide 2: Show an image of a telephone or email symbol to represent communication.
Slide 3: Use an image of a stage or theatre masks to represent role-play activity.
Module 11: Prioritising Early Intervention and Support

Slide 1: Picture of a child in the center with multiple helping hands around to signify support.
Slide 2: Use a clock or a calendar to represent the concept of "early."
Slide 3: Show a plan or a blueprint to represent the designing of an early intervention plan.
Module 12: Building Flexibility into Curriculum and Instruction

Slide 1: Show an image of a flexible ruler or a curriculum book.
Slide 2: Picture of a flexible arrow or pathway to symbolize flexibility.
Slide 3: Use a picture of a hand holding different teaching tools to represent experimenting with strategies.
Remember, these are suggestions. You can modify them to suit the style and tone of your presentation, or based on the images available in the Doodly library.